Health Factors Are Outlined by Mayor Partney

A statement saying that his health is adequate was given to the Press-Record yesterday by Granite City Mayor Donald Partney, who is seeking re-election. Text of the statement follows:

"Much has been said of late about the state of my health. There have been numerous rumors that I am contending with everything from Hong Kong flu to lung cancer.

"My opponent, Mr. Paul Schuler, has been guilty of circulating particularly malicious rumors contending that I am suffering from lung cancer and am at death's door.

"He, of course, could not possibly know the true state of my health and this makes his rumors a campaign particularly dastardly.

"Because of the various rumors, I find it necessary to issue this statement about my personal health.

"The facts are as follows: I had a stroke on June 2, 1972, on being hospitalized I was given a complete physical examination and a small shadow was discovered on the upper lobe of my left lung.

"This was found to be a small tumor which was removed by Dr. Thomas H. Burford, M.D., located in Queeny Towers of Barnes Hospital Plaza, who specializes in thoracic surgery.

"After my release from St. Luke's Hospital, I was told that the lesion in the left lung was removed satisfactorily.

"I suppose, in a way, the slight stroke proved to be a god-send because it enabled the doctors to find the tumor and remove it before it was serious.

"The real problem for a while was the extent to which the stroke impaired me physically and the question of how long it would take me to regain my full strength.

"After my release from the hospital and as my second term drew to a close, I had to consider my physical condition in the light of the demands of a political campaign and an additional four years in the mayor's office.

"I did not feel it fair to myself and my family, nor the voters, to engage in this activity without getting a complete physical from my physicians.

"For this reason, I returned for a physical examination.

"Dr. Burford's report stated, 'Mr. Partney is thoroughly able to create keenly and intelligently and has no impairment of his mental faculties. He writes well and his only major disability is that involving his left arm and hand.'

"This report informed me that I was in a position to make the campaign and serve another four years.

"From time to time it has been necessary for me to return to the hospital and have my blood checked due to the fact that the doctors were giving me certain prescriptions to control the thickness of my blood.

"Also, I have returned for regularly scheduled therapy.

"I suppose that the immediate foregoing may account for some of the rumors.

"To conclude, I would not submit myself or my family to any risk in regard to my health by engaging in a political campaign despite my deep feeling about the future of Granite City, if I did not have a complete assurance from my doctors that I am able to perform as necessary.

"Those of you who see me going about my duties at the City Hall daily and at my campaign headquarters know that the press release is unnecessary.

"I make this press release for those people who have been led to be concerned about my health by a whisper campaign on the part of a candidate who has nothing to offer in the way of a campaign issue but the alleged ill health of his opponent.

Cycle, Auto Collide, Three Persons Injured

Three persons were injured when a motorcycle driven by Richard Kayser, 23, of Rural Route One, and an auto driven by J. B. Hayes Sr., 254 Lee Ave., collided at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at 22nd Street and Madison Avenue.

Taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital were the cyclist and two Hayes children. Kayser suffered pain to the left lower leg and abrasions to the right thigh and left elbow and was transferred to Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, following X-rays.

J. B. Hayes Jr., 10, had X-rays to the right leg and was released. Another Hayes, 20 months, was examined and released. Hayes was charged with a right-of-way violation on a left turn.

No Activity in Fund Project This Weekend

No activity is planned this weekend in connection with a fund-raising project originally announced for March 4.

An entertainment program had been scheduled in the downtown area but will not take place, the Press-Record was advised today.

A temporary restraining order against the undertaking continues in effect, and Harry E. Hartman has been designated as guardian of a minor child in his contacts with the project.

A court order issued yesterday makes State Fair Productions of Nashville, Tenn., a party to the case and it has 30 days to respond. The date of the next hearing has not yet been set.

TOOLS, SAWS STOLEN

Two tool boxes containing assorted tools valued at $700 and two chain saws valued at $400 were stolen in a garage burglary at the home of Dean Peters, 2723 Myrtle Ave., during the night. It was reported at 2:10 p.m. Wednesday. The door was forced.

VENICE POLICE HEADQUARTERS EXPANSION. An addition to the west side of the Venice City Hall is beginning to take shape. The 50x40-foot, one-story addition will house two cells for women, four cells for men, a juvenile detention room, an identification area and booking area. Workmen pictured Tuesday are David Crews, 23, Oaklawn Drive, left, and Herman Wright, 1231 Bissell St. Police Chief Ralph D. Brawley hopes his department will be able to use the new facilities by June.

River Road Taking Savage Death Toll

Statistics compiled by the Press-Record show that during the period from March 25, 1971, to Feb. 24 this year, nine persons have been killed in accidents occurring along the Route 3 to Niedringhaus Avenue stretch of Route 151.

In those same accidents in which nine persons died, 15 others were injured, some of the victims suffering maiming injuries from which they may never recover fully.

Most of the accidents were intersection collisions which involved vehicles pulling into the highway and into the path of fast-moving cars.

Most recent victim was Mrs. Dorothy Bauer, 38, of 2609 Logan Ave., who was killed during the past weekend when the small foreign car in which she was riding crashed broadside into another car pulling onto the highway from Rock Road.

Mrs. Bauer was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 11:15 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 24.

Mrs. Bauer was the mother of Ronald Bauer, 13, who was injured fatally July 8, 1971, in an accident of almost identical circumstances on FA Route 151 at North Street, a short distance from where Mrs. Bauer was killed.

Ronald, who died 12 hours after the accident, was a passenger in a car driven by his stepmother, Mrs. Doble Bauer, 2127 Edwardsville Road, which was struck broadside by another car as the Bauer auto pulled across the highway from North Street eastbound.

Three other persons, including a student driver at the wheel of the other auto, were taken to the hospital. Two of the three injured were hurt seriously.

Paralleling the tragic accident ratio on Route 151 is that of Illinois Route 3 just a short distance east of Route 151, which the Great River Road was expected to relieve of its traffic congestion.

While accidents on the River Road were accounting for nine lives and 15 injuries, five persons died as the result of accidents on Route 3 at various intersections with Granite City Streets—with West Pontoon Road as the most dangerous intersection.

Thirteen persons were injured in those accidents in addition to the fatalities.

On the basis of these statistics, a total of 14 persons died and 28 were injured in accidents occurring on Route 151 and Route 3 during the past 24 months—March 1971 through February 1973.

This is a ratio of .6 of one fatality per month and 1.17 injuries per month on the two stretches of highway from the Route 3 intersection with Route 151 to its southern terminus.

The Granite City council took notice of the problem at a regular meeting Monday night when it instructed City Clerk Robert Stevens to request the district office of the Illinois State Department of Transportation to survey the Granite City intersections of the Great River Road to determine what traffic controls may be needed.

Alderman Walter Nonn, chairman of the Street and Alley Committee, in referring to last week's accident in which Mrs.

Step Up Efforts to Gain Treatment Okay

Granite City's secondary sewage treatment program is facing new problems in demands by U.S. Environmental Protection Agency officials for additional information involving the design size of the city's proposed new secondary treatment plant, City Attorney Leon Scroggins told the City Council Monday night.

The call for additional data was made Feb. 22 at Springfield in a meeting of Granite City officials, Illinois EPA officials and Charles Orzechowski of the U.S. EPA planning section to consider the city's application for state and federal funds with which to build the treatment plant.

The city attorney told the aldermen the time required to meet the new demand is almost certain to make it impossible for the city to meet a March 15 deadline for finalizing a contract for construction of the proposed new plant.

The city now has a bid of $10.8 million for the plant construction from the G. L. Tarron Co. of St. Louis, but the City Council, in accepting the bid, provided that a firm contract would be awarded only when it became certain that the city would receive state and federal grants.

On a motion by Alderman Gerald Parmley, the council instructed Scroggins to personally telephone U. S. Sen. Charles Percy and Adlai Stevenson III, and Cong. Melvin Price to request their aid in resolving the problems between the city and the EPA.

Parmley asked City Clerk

$19,500 Salary Set for Mayor

An ordinance fixing the salary of the Granite City mayor at $19,500 per year and the salaries of the city treasurer and city clerk at $15,000 annually, was adopted by the City Council Monday night.

The action followed a lengthy debate in which some aldermen again attempted to block passage of the bill, which had been revised downward from an original salary proposal of $20,000 a year for the mayor.

Adoption of the bill increases the mayor's salary by 47% from the present $13,200 per year to the new $19,500 figure. It raises the salaries of the clerk and treasurer by 31% from the present $11,400 annual sal-

Train Blocks Firemen, 2 Houses Burn

Two Venice houses and an automobile were destroyed by fire as Venice firemen were detained five minutes by a train at the Broadway crossing early yesterday.

Firemen were called at 4:15 a.m. yesterday to the home of Jerry Hoffman, 400 Main St., Venice, where fire had started in the kitchen. The house is west of the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad tracks and the fire station is east of the tracks.

By the time the fire trucks could cross the tracks after an Illinois Gulf Central train passed, the fire had gutted Hoffman's home and had spread to a vacant house at 402 Main St. It also set a 1964 automobile near the houses ablaze.

Plant 'Success Stories' Called Key to Future

Of all the methods of encouraging new industrial development in a community, the one that works best is outstandingly effective operation of the manufacturing plants already in the community, it was asserted here Monday night.

Speaking at a dinner gathering at Tony's Restaurant on Route 203, Paul H. Kelly, manager of the Granite City auto frame plant of the A. O. Smith Corp., said "success stories" at existing firms trigger decisions by other companies to develop new facilities.

The Quad-City area has just such an opportunity to attract manufacturing development and expansion, through labor-management teamwork which results in high productivity of quality goods, Kelly said.

Although other factors also are taken into consideration by corporations, the ability to operate soundly and profitably is the key to whether a community is chosen as the site of future industrial activity, it was emphasized.

Kelly was presiding as chairman of the industrial committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

The dinner was arranged in cooperation with the Chamber board of directors as a means of increasing acquaintanceship between the organization and executives of plants in this area.

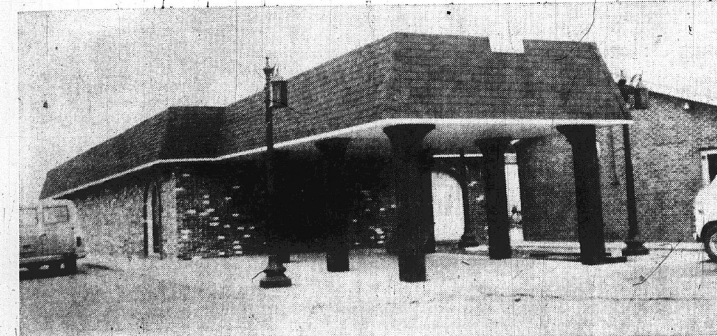

Those present included Chamber President Chester L. Baker and Henry D. Karandjeff, Paul H. Lichtenberger, Carl E. Mathias and Paul G. Halbert, hosts at a social hour preceding the dinner.

Guests honored were: Roderick Key of American Sheet & Strip Steel Corp., Christ D. Kacaleff of Chris Kaye Plastics Manufacturing Co., George Pullanas, Paul M. Walter, Robert M. Edmonds and Carlton P. O'Brien, all of Granite City Steel Co., George B. King of Shasta Beverages.

Edward O'Connor, Howard Schuenke and Delmar Frech, all of A. O. Smith Corp., Lester R. Salem of Illinois Terminal Railroad Co., Harry Cottrell of Madison Metal Decorating.

J. Philip Redick of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities.

Edward L. Edwards of Commercial Office Products Co. and R. A. Blakeney of Illinois Power Co.

TEMPEL'S SMORGASBORD will open soon. The new restaurant at 1535 Johnson Road is decorated in a Spanish motif and will seat 250 persons, with accommodations for private parties. Parking for more than 100 cars is available on two lots in front and in back of the building. Herb Tempel, who has been operating Bert's Chuck Wagon for the past eight years, is the owner of the new restaurant.

Mrs. Anna Leezy, 71, Succumbs at Home

Mrs. Anna Jane (Been) Leezy, 71, of St. Louis, died at 8 a.m. Tuesday at her home following a three-day illness.

She was born in Baldwin, Ill. and had resided in St. Louis for 40 years.

Mrs. Leezy was a member of the Typographical Auxiliary 29, Allied Trades Council and Labor Trades Council, all of St. Louis, and was a volunteer worker at Deaconess Hospital in St. Louis.

Her husband, Ralph L. Leezy, died in 1958.

Surviving are two nieces, Mrs. Ruth Stewart of Albuquerque, N. M., and Mrs. Margaret Queenen of St. Louis.

STEAL SPARE TIRE

The spare tire and wheel were stolen from the trunk of the auto of William McCunney, 1825 Edwardsville Road, Madison, at his home. McCunney reported at 7:05 a.m. Wednesday. The trunk lock was damaged.

Illinois Plan Helps Families Of War Prisoners, Missing

Copley News Service
Springfield — The State of Illinois has had since last year a program of services for families of prisoners of war and men missing in action.

Illinois has been the only state to offer such a program and the state has been hailed in the Congressional Record for its effort. The program involves 18 major agencies with in state government.

According to the man who has been behind the scenes coordinating the program, the service has been kept under wraps since its start because of its sensitive nature.

"The assistance service was begun because many of the problems that faced families of POWs and MIAs have related to state, rather than federal, problems," Dan Sullivan said.

He is administrative assistant to James C. Torrelli, of the governor's Office of Human Resources, coordinator of the Veterans Affairs section, which has administered the program.

Sullivan said state-related problems range from questions about mortgages and finances to driver's licenses and car registration.

"This program was designed to ameliorate these problems. We have been there to let families know that someone on the state level was available to help them whenever they needed it."

The next of kin of 92 Illinois men have been eligible to be helped by the program.

The 91 includes 26 military POWs (eight of whom have been released), one civilian prisoner, four POWs unaccounted for, 60 men missing in action and one man who died in captivity.

Sullivan said primary responsibility to assist next of kin rests with the Department of Defense, which has been particularly helpful on diplomatic, postal and military matters.

But, Sullivan said, state problems often confronted these already-worried families and could not be dealt with on the federal level.

Sullivan cited two examples of how families have been helped by the program.

One POW's wife telephoned her Casualty Assistance Officer (who is assigned to each POW MIA family) with a problem regarding the sale of her old house and the purchase of a new one.

Sullivan said a quick call from his office expedited the legalities of the matter, which might otherwise have taken weeks to straighten out.

Another example concerned a woman who feared her husband's driver's license would expire before he returned, signed his name to the license form. She then became worried about the consequences. A call from Sullivan's office to the secretary of state resolved the matter, with no upset to the already worried woman.

"It is these small, yet important, matters which our office has helped families with," Sullivan said.

The program began after a meeting last May at which persons involved in the prisoner-of-war issue expressed the need for something to be done at the state level for families of POWs-MIAs.

As a result, Sullivan was hired. He contacted the directors of 18 state agencies and asked them to let him know of ways that their departments could help the families.

Then a booklet was prepared and mailed to the families, listing agencies and their services.

Wankowski Here for MS Drive Wednesday

Ron Wankowski of the St. Louis Football Cardinals will visit several schools here Wednesday, March 7, on behalf of Tag Days for the Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Another Cardinal who will tour the four Granite City junior high schools Thursday, March 8, will be named this weekend.

Wankowski will be at Sacred Heart school at 9 a.m. Wednesday and will stop at St. Joseph School at 10:30 a.m. He will be at St. Mary's at 12:15 p.m., St. Marks at 1:15 p.m. and at the Venice public school buildings at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Tag Day stops Thursday will be at Prather at 8:45 a.m., Grigsby at 10:30 a.m., Central at 1:30 p.m. and Coolidge at 3:30 p.m.

Chouteau Road, Bridge Budget Totals $61,800

A tentative Chouteau Township road and bridge fund budget totaling $61,800 was posted for public inspection Wednesday morning in the office of the town clerk, 825 Thorngate Drive.

A public hearing on the budget will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 27, at the clerk's office with action to be taken at the same time by the town board.

The budget includes $50,800 for the general road fund, $6,000 for the equipment and building fund and $5,000 for the municipal retirement fund.

4-H Club Members Tour Hobby, Craft Center

The Moonspinners 4-H Club toured the Lee Ward Hobby and Craft Center in St. Louis and had as guests members of the 58ers 4-H Club.

Arrangements for the tour were made by Moonspinners leader, Mrs. Elizabeth Schmidt. Leaders of the 58ers, Mrs. Har- rison Bunselmeier and Mrs. Eva Mueller, also accompanied the group.

Assisting with transportation were the following: Mesdames Catherine Ponce, Agnes Butler, Margaret DeRuntz, Helen De- Runtz, Sharon St. Ivany and Mrs. Hulenbeck.

They were divided into two groups which were conducted on tours by Becky Anselmo and Gloria Falk. Highlight of the tours were special booth demonstrations by Jean A. Shapiro, who showed how to make pom-pom yarn flowers, latch book rugs and broom stick lace, and Donna Marrooni, who showed how to make magic ornaments, flowers constructed of free form film and elevation art.

Patterns and directions for the crafts were distributed to the girls, and samples of some of the projects were presented to the leaders.

Girls attending were Maria Schmidt, Angela Acosta, Mary- ann Colburn, Kathleen De- Runtz, Rita DeRuntz, Jane Friedberg, Sandy Haupt, Rosal- lie Ponce, Deborah Schaefer, Denise St. Ivany, Anita Turner, Ann Utter, Mary Ann Bequette, Deborah Burrett, Linda St. Ivany, Jean Bunselmeier, Joan Hulenbeck, Mary Mueller, Rhonda Phillips, Brenda Wadlow, Patsy Smolich and Jo Ann Kambich.

Robert Stevens if letters had been written to the three legislators asking their help, as the council had suggested earlier. Stevens said the letters had been written, but there had been no response.

Scroggins said that a 120-day period in which the bid offer was to remain effective expired March 15. Unless the contractor will agree to an extension of time on the same offer, the city would be required to again go through bidding procedure, Scroggins said.

"The attorney said the request for more data was made by Orzechowski, although the city previously had received assurances from Walter Romanek of the enforcement division of the U.S. EPA that the city's plant design for a capacity of 20 million gallons daily would be acceptable.

Scroggins said Orzechowski particularly requested data concerning the potential reopening of the Corn Sweeteners, Inc. plant. Corn Sweeteners was the largest user of the primary sewage treatment system. Shut-down of the plant last year reduced treatment volume at the primary plant by about 65%.

The primary plant has a capacity of 20 million gallons daily, and the engineers' handling the secondary treatment plant design set its capacity at Mize was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital with abrasions below the right knee and was transferred to St. Mary's Hospital, Richmond Heights, Mo., following x-rays to the left hand, wrist, forearm and elbow.

GARAGE BURGLARIZED

Norman-Fulkerson, 2801 Sheridan Ave., reported at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday that during the night someone entered his garage and removed a 12-volt battery from his station wagon by cutting the cables. It was valued at $39.

23 million gallons, a design that has been questioned recently by Illinois and federal EPA officials as being excessive.

Attending the Springfield meeting from here last week were Scroggins, Alderman Everett Morien of the council's Pollution Plant Committee; Aaron Pearson, of the M. W. Architects and Engineers, special engineers for the secondary treatment program; and Robert Jackson, manager of the city's primary-sewage treatment plant.

Addition to Nameoki Town Offices Set at $40,000

The cost of expanding the Nameoki Town Hall has been estimated at $40,000 to $45,000, the committee studying the expansion told the Nameoki Town Board at its regular meeting Monday night.

The committee is studying several alternatives to find more room for village offices. One plan is to construct a new, larger building.

The township would like to provide areas for separate general assistance, highway department and town offices and possibly provide a courtroom for use by the Circuit Court.

The expanded or new building would be purchased on time payments by the state general assistance office, the circuit court and by the township through the town fund.

The estimate on expanding the present town hall calls for extending the rear of the building 20 feet to the south and adding a second floor over the office area.

The board of auditors passed a resolution continuing the township's participation in the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission (SIMAPC) program for the next year at a cost of $85.

A letter was read from Nicholas Byron, state's attorney, to George Masso, Madison County treasurer, indicating his legal opinion that if townships in the county budget for township collectors, they can continue tax collection as in the past.

The question of how collectors should be paid has been in the courts since the 1970 Illinois Constitution banned use of collectors' fees to pay their salary.

A letter from the Madison County Building and Zoning Department to the township was read, responding to a question as to whether the township may take legal action against the owners of four boarded-up houses on Angela Drive.

The letter indicated that no legal action can be taken but the township can urge local realtors to speed up the sale of the houses.

Jack Schooley, township attorney, informed the board that engineering work on the four-township sewer program has been completed and the initial appeal for federal funding for the project has been submitted.

The auditors discussed the progress of studies into the cost of trash collection in the township, either by a private service or by the township. Douglas Teator, town clerk, said that local services are being contacted for prices and the study is continuing to determine the cost of the township providing the service.

In a ballot earlier this year, township residents indicated a

Salary

Gerald Parmley, R. E. Robertson, Roy Paulus, Claude Green, Everett Morien and Emerald Dawes, Alderman Paul Schuler abstained in the voting because he is a candidate for mayor.

As the 7 to 6 vote was announced by City Clerk Robert Stevens, one of the aldermen remarked, "Then it lost."

Scroggins replied that in instances where a majority of votes were cast on an issue, either for or against, all abstaining votes are counted with the majority.

At this point, Mayor Parmley, who is allowed to vote when his vote decides the outcome of an issue, announced that "I am voting yes."

On this basis, Scroggins ruled the vote on the salary bill had carried.

Alderman Dawes spearheaded the opposition to the mayor's salary figure, asking that the salary be fixed at $18,500. Those aldermen supporting the higher salary maintained the mayor's salary "should" have been raised to $20,000 a long time ago.

An ordinance setting the mayor's salary as $20,000 was introduced in late January but its supporters failed to muster enough votes to suspend the rules and place it on final passage. That bill was placed on first reading for action in this week's meeting.

Levee

The judge added that it would impair obligations under contracts between the levee district and municipalities in the two counties, and that it would impose tax obligations on citizens of both counties which would be assessed and collected by persons other than the elected corporate authorities contemplated by the 1907 act under which the levee district was organized.

Defendants in the suit are William Ebersold and Russell Robinson, elected trustees of the Madison District. The litigation prevents new Gov. Dan Walker from appointing three trustees to the Madison District and two trustees to the St. Clair district until the dispute is resolved in the courts.

Later, Alderman Whitmer contended the agreement which was not read in full Feb. 5 did contain authority for the city to control the pumps.

"I did nothing unhandered to stop the reading of that agreement," Parmley said. "I went on the basis of information I had from Scroggins. I asked him if either of the terms was in the agreement and he said they were not."

"I still think the city should have insisted on a hold harmless clause, because when anything happens the people are going to let you know about it," Whitmer remarked that "any mistake that was made in our action in rejecting the agreement the first time was in not hearing all of the proposal. I think this should be a lesson to all of us on the council."

Parmley, who was absent from the Feb. 19 council session, said that he had to work that night, and "I did not duck any meeting" because of the controversy over the agreement.

The same agreement approved Feb. 19 was rejected by the council on Feb. 5 when Parmley interrupted the reading of the proposal by Alderman Roy Paulus by explaining that neither of two stipulations required by the city was in the agreement. Reading of the proposal was not completed.

The city had asked that the agreement give the city street superintendent control of the pumps that would carry drainage from the Doherty area into Nameoki Ditch, and a "hold harmless" clause to protect the city against damages caused by flood waters.

THEFT EFFOR FAILS

A thief was seen running from the W. T. Grant Store carrying a 10-inch portable color television set valued at $200 and eight spark plugs valued at $5, but he dropped the TV set while trying to get it out of the store. It was reported at 6:45 p.m. Monday.

Levee

The judge added that it would impair obligations under contracts between the levee district and municipalities in the two counties, and that it would impose tax obligations on citizens of both counties which would be assessed and collected by persons other than the elected corporate authorities contemplated by the 1907 act under which the levee district was organized.

GC Midget, Squirt Hockey Teams Win Championships

The Granite City Midget (15-16) and Squirt (9-10) teams each finished in first place in their respective divisions in the Missouri Amateur Ice Hockey Association.

In winning they finished ahead of six St. Louis area teams, including strong teams from Clayton and Wentzville. The Midgets, sponsored by Lindsay Construction Co. of Granite City, compiled a season record of 9-1-3. The Squirts, sponsored by Mendoza's Sporting Goods, compiled a record of 10-2-1.

Jake Hinterser of Granite City is head coach of the Squirts and Pete Portmann of St. Louis is head coach of the Midgets. Portmann is assisted in coaching duties by Tom Taff and Ed Whaley, both of Granite City. Jake Hinterser has Har- old Dix and George Grove as his assistant coaches.

The Granite City teams play in the blue division of the M.A.I.H.A. There are seven blue and seven red division teams. Playoffs between top division teams are now under way to determine the overall league champions and to determine who will represent the St. Louis area in the St. Louis In-visional Tournament which will include teams from major U.S. cities.

Winners of Bantam (13-14) and Pee Wee (11-12) playoffs will represent St. Louis in an invitational tournament at Thunder Bay, Canada. The Granite City Pee Wee team has a shot at this honor as it finished second in its division and is given a good chance to beat Clayton in the playoffs.

Clayton is undefeated but only beat the Granite City Pee Wees by one goal in regular season play. The Granite City Pee Wees is coached by Bill Hodge of Granite City and is sponsored by Country Club Estates of Edwardsville. Hodge's assistant coaches are Bill McFarland and Bill Portell.

Semi-final games in the playoffs will be played in Granite City on Saturday, March 10, in the Squirt Division at 7:30 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. and on Sunday, March 11, in the Pee Wee Division at 7 a.m. and 8:15 a.m. Semi-final games in the Midget Division will be held at the Creve Coeur Ice Rink at 4:15 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, March 10, and 7:15 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. on Sunday, March 11. The Midget game will be at 5:30 p.m. and the Pee Wee game at 6:45 p.m. and the Midget game at 9:15 p.m.

The Granite City Bantams did not make the championship playoffs but will be playing in a consolation playoff tournament. The team is given a good chance to win as it has been playing well. The Bantams are coached by Eldon Klein of Collinsville who is assisted by Paul Weiss. The Bantam semi-final games will be played at Creve Coeur on Tuesday, March 13, at 7:15 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. Wednesday, March 14, at 7:15 p.m. and 8:15 p.m., with the championship game on Friday, March 16, at 8:30 p.m.

The Granite City Squirt, Pee Wee and Midget teams are among the best in the St. Louis area. Most upstate cities as Decatur, Bloomington, Springfield, Pekin and Peoria are among the best in the Chicago area.

Pekin, which has the strongest teams down state, along with Granite City, will be here March 31 and April 1 for the Granite City Invitational Hockey Tournament. This will be an event with a full weekend of hockey at the ice rink here. Teams from Peoria and Decatur will also be here for this tournament.

Players on the champion Midget team are John Kirk, goalie, Mike Whaley, Rick Hodge, James Williams, Bill Skirball, Cory Worthen, defensemen, Dave Rapoff and Ken Sabol, centers; Joe Preiser, Scott Taff, Steve Dioneida, Don Augustine, Jim Strawn, wings, Dave Rapoff, Rick Hodge and Jim Strawn are the top three scoring in the Missouri Blue Division.

Players on the champion Squirt team are Tim Grove,

Fishing Termed Tops At Baldwin Reservoir

An Illinois Department of Conservation official has told Illinois Power Co. officials that fishing prospects are excellent for this year at the company's Baldwin Reservoir.

Peter J. Paladino, area fish biologist, said the fish population at Baldwin is excellent, very fat and provides good rewards for fishermen.

Fish find the lake very productive because it is shallow, he said. There is a standing crop of fish at Baldwin of about 500 pounds per acre, Paladino said.

A total of 50,000 fish were stocked in the lake in 1969 and about 120,000 in 1970. These included 40 largemouth bass brooders, 700 redear sunfish fingerlings, and 6,000 breeding size bluegill and 172,000 bluegill fingerlings. No stocking, has been necessary since.

IPC uses the 2,000-acre reservoir to cool its 665,000-kilowatt generating unit at its Baldwin power plant, located in Randolph and St. Clair counties. A second 665,000-kilowatt generating unit will go into operation this spring at Baldwin. A third unit is scheduled for operation at Baldwin in 1975.

The lake was opened to public fishing in June, 1971. The lake is owned by Illinois Power which built a boat ramp and other facilities, then leased it to the state on a no cost basis for operation as a fishing spot. The lake is closed on Mondays.

Paladino said bluegill enjoyed a huge spawn last summer and that bluegill fishing should be excellent on Baldwin this spring. The best fishing probably will be in the shallows along the west shore. The lake contains a large population of small bullheads, bass, channel cat and redear.

Cager Gives International Flavor to Cougar JV Team

Basketball, which is as American as apple pie, has gone international, as anyone who watched the Olympic Games last summer knows.

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville junior varsity team, which competed to a 15-3 season under the tutelage of Coach Ed Bigham, had a key player who is half French and half Egyptian although he is now a citizen of the United States.

He is Philip George Polk, whose mother is from France. Phil's father, Abdule leaire, is a newscaster. When his mother's marriage broke up, she married William Polk of the U. S. Air Force.

Until he was 12, Phil didn't know a thing about the game of basketball. His first love was boxing, but once he was exposed to the hardcourt sport he fell in love with it.

"Boxing, man, that gets pretty rough, so I decided to give it up," said Polk.

When his stepfather was transferred to Scott Air Force Base, Polk went out for the cross country team at Lebanon High School. His first contact with prep basketball was at Gardena, Calif., where he made the team as a junior and averaged 16 points per game. Then, his mother moved to Collinsville where Polk finished high school, but didn't go out for the team.

Phil wasn't a starter on the SIUE JV's, but saw a lot of action as the Cougar Cubs established the best record this season to post a 16-9 campaign, the best in SIUE's cage history.

"Being sure, Polk will be out there giving his best effort. He's a hustler and never stops trying," said Coach Bigham.

Funny Cars Highlight Drag Racing Action

The Burton and Guthrie Mach Mustang funny car defeated Jack Dumas' Opel Mini-Brute funny car in three consecutive matches this week during a season warm-up race at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison.

More than 200 cars and motorcycles completed in this week's events including fuel dragsters and the two funny cars. The funny car of Danny Miller of St. Louis also was on hand but the engine head gasket broke during warm-ups.

The season grand opening will be Sunday, March 4, featuring Bill "Maverick" Golden and his wheel standing Little Red Wagon. The truck navigates the quarter-mile track on its rear wheels, reaching speeds of more than 130 miles per hour.

Other features will be funny cars, fuel dragsters, street competition and super stock eliminator competition at a dial-your-own ET competitions for motorcycles and subcompact cars.

Qualifications will begin about 9 a.m. Sunday and eliminations are set for about 2 p.m.

Warriors vs. Kahoks In Regional Tourney

Granite City High School's basketball Warriors will play the Collinsville Kahoks in the first round of the Class AA Regional Tournament at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The Warriors are seeded third with a 6-16 record and the Collinsville Kahoks (20-2) are seeded first.

Edwardsville Tigers, 18-6, seeded second, will play fourth-seeded Roxana (13-11) at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The championship game will be played at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The winners will advance to the Class AA Sectional Tournament being played March 13-14 and 16 in East St. Louis.

The Super-Sectional will be played March 2 at Carbondale, and the State Finals are set for March 23-24 at the University of Illinois.

Syniski Gets Best in State Honors in Fishing Program

Madison angler Raymond R. Syniski captured "Best In State" honors in Zebco's Fish-America Awards program for the state of Illinois in the white bass division with a 2 pound 4 ounce tunker, Syniski, who lives at 833 Greenwood St., qualified for "Best In Species" competition, the national FishAmerica award.

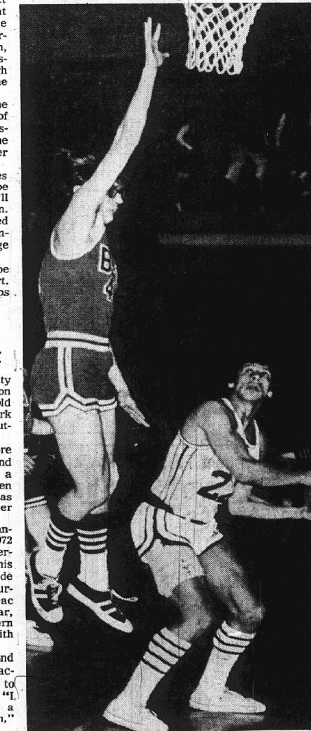

The angler's winning entry was among 1,500 qualifying entries in the 1972 FishAmerica program sponsored by Zebco/Consumer Division Brunswick Corp. The awards program gives recognition for qualifying catches in 33 categories in both fresh and salt water.

Best in State winners will receive a personalized Zebco 33 reel and a quantity of Stren line. Additionally, each winner will receive a special patch signifying "Best In State" and a certificate.

From the Best In State winners will be selected the national FishAmerica Award winner in each of the 33 species. Each national winner will receive $1,000 for his or her award-winning catch, the first choice of any Zebco reel-rod combination engraved with their name plus a year's supply of Stren line.

Wins in Track Meet

Stanley Stajduhar of Granite City, a first-year cadet at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, won the 60-yard dash in a track meet against Princeton. He also ran with the varsity team against Navy. A former Granite City High School athlete, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stajduhar, 3018 Nameoki Road.

INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR provided on the SIUE junior varsity basketball team by Philip George Polk (with ball), who is half French and half Egyptian.

Prehn Cited by Coach at LCCC

Rick Prehn of Granite City has received commendation from basketball Coach Arnold Copeland at Lewis and Clark Community College for outstanding performance.

"Rick was one of our more pleasant surprises," Copeland commented. "He has been a consistent player and has been able to play good defense as well as score 11.2 points per game."

Prehn graduated from Granite City High School in 1972 where he was a two-year letterman in basketball. During his junior year, his team made Sweet Sixteen in the state tournament and won the Pontiac tournament. In his senior year, GCHS tied for the southwestern Conference championship with Belleville West.

"I chose to attend Lewis and Clark because of the fine faculty and because I wanted to play basketball," Rick said. "I am now studying to become a teacher and hopefully a coach," he added.

5 GCHS Wrestlers in State Tournament Friday, Saturday

Five wrestlers from Granite City High School will be among 192 of the state's best competing for honors in the annual state tournament which opens tomorrow at the Assembly Hall of the University of Illinois at Champaign.

Representing the Warriors will be Phil Lapinski (105 pounds), John Niebur (112), Kerry Johnson (119), Dan Heath (132) and Ken Nolen (145). Lapinski, Niebur and Johnson were champions in the sectional tournament at Wood River last weekend and Heath and Nolen were runners-up.

Johnson is the only senior going to state this year. The other four competitors are juniors. "The fact that we have underclassmen going is rather unusual considering our record in past years," Coach Bill Schmidt commented this week. Lapinski enters the state meet with a record of 33 wins, three losses and three pins. Niebur has 29 victories, five losses, one draw and eight pins to his credit.

Heath has a record of 25-11 including 11 pins, and Nolen enters the finals with a 26-10 record, including four falls. Although each has an impressive season record, their chances at the state depend on how "up" they are for their state matches, Schmitt commented.

He described the competition from Northern Illinois which the Granite City wrestlers will meet as "more solid than the Southern Illinois wrestlers." He indicated that in the 23 years he has been coaching Warriors they have won 215 dual meets and lost only one against Southern Illinois teams while the record against other squads, including Northern Illinois and Missouri teams, is 127 wins and 27 losses. "There is quite a difference," Schmitt said. "It is extremely tough because competition down here is not as intense as up there. Here, minor mistakes can become habitual where up there they won't work and have to be eliminated," Schmitt explained.

When he promises you the sun, moon and stars, tell him you'll settle for a rock.

Dudley Exudes Pride Over Cougars' Season

Coach Jim Dudley couldn't hide his pride in his Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team last Saturday night when it had defeated the Quincy College Hawks, 73-67, in the final regular season game.

Besides making the SIUE for the year an impressive 16-9 mark, it also was the first time in three seasons that the Cougars had ever beaten Quincy. Beating Quincy on their floor is no easy task. It's only happened five times in the last four seasons.

It was one of the best games that Dudley's Dandies had played during a season which saw the Cougars rebound from last year's 5-21 record to this year's winning campaign. It had to be one of the Cougars' best for them to win.

Quincy's Memorial Gym seats 3,000 but another 500 or more are always shoe-horned in. The place rocks when their beloved Hawks play. Last Saturday night wasn't any different. From the start, the Cougars left little doubt that they intended to win this one to keep alive their hopes for a post-season bid to play in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Great Lakes Regional college division tournament. The Great Lakes Region is comprised of Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Half way into the first half, the Cougars battled to a 27-17 lead. With four minutes left on the clock, Denny Thromberg hit on two straight jump shots to increase the Cougar lead to 42-7. Unfortunately, however, SIUE's captain and floor general, Tony Johnson, had to leave the game because of a sinus condition.

In less than three minutes, the Hawks' leading scorer, Jim Winter, made six points to cut SIUE's halftime lead to 43-35, illustrating Johnson's value to the Cougars. Winter, a Belleville Alhott High graduate, edged out Johnson as game high scorer with 24 points to Tony's 23.

It was the great defensive job of Terry Carlson in the final 20 minutes which really won it for the Cougars. Assigned to guard the Hawks' Winter the last half, Carlson put the lead and told Winter under a blanket and held him scoreless for more than 10 minutes. Winter's first two pointers wasn't scored until 9:20 p.m. Friday could turn out to be a Trojan-Devil contest.

In addition, Carlson shot a sensational 7-of-13 from the floor, which along with Leon Wright's 7-of-10, Johnson's 10-of-18, Butch Fere's 4-of-7 and Denny Thromberg's 5-of-13 gave the Cougars a shooting percentage of .532 to the Hawks' .380.

For the season the Cougars shot 46.7 percent from the floor and finished third in the nation at the free-throw line by hitting at a .747 average.

In their 16-9 season, the Cougars game total averaged out to 80.1 to their opponents' 79.6. Their field-goal shooting also was far above normal as they hit .465. Wright, who led the SIUE rebounding with a total of 224 (8.7 per game), paced the Cougars in field goal shooting as he hit at a .517 clip. Next were Johnson with 592, Ferees with 566, Carlson with a .457 mark and Thromberg at .405.

Johnson won the total points with 532. In addition, the clever little guard also paced the Cougars with a total of 132 assists. Nearest to Johnson on assists were Carlson (78) and Thromberg (76).

Venice, MHS Play Tonight

Madison High School's Trojans eliminated Belleville St. Henry 72-47 in a first-round game of the DuPo Regional Basketball Tournament Wednesday night.

In other opening round action, Lebanon outlasted Columbia 29-20 Tuesday night and Brookings Lovejoy defeated DuPo 81-69 last night.

The top-seeded Venice Red Devils, who drew a first-round bye, will meet Lebanon in a semi-final game at 7 p.m. today, followed by a game between the Trojans and Lovejoy at 8:30 p.m. Madison defeated Brooklyn 84-74 in the DuPo Holiday Tournament.

The championship game at 7:30 p.m. Friday could turn out to be a Trojan-Devil contest.

THE Wikler SHOE BY BUSTER BROWN.

The Wikler shoe by Buster Brown has a flared and broadened fan-shaped toe outline. It's curved to follow every natural line of your child's foot. More wiggle room for toes. Provides freedom to flex, exercise and grow. A Wikler shoe is made with the very softest uppers. No irritating inside seams or stiff metal shanks to chafe or chafe. Just natural shape and give. And the feeling of "going barefoot with shoes on!"

Archeological Survey

Sidney Denny, assistant professor of anthropology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has received a grant of $2,850 to explore additional archeological sites in the bluffs area around the American Bottoms.

The grant is from the Illinois Archeological Survey through the Department of Conservation.

The Cahokia Archeological Society and James Anderson, curator of Cahokia Mounds, are working jointly with Denny on the project, entitled the Historic Sites Survey.

The area under study runs north to Alton and south to near Dupu. It is bordered on the west by the Mississippi River bluffs, and to the east by the Silver Creek area.

"We don't know enough about the little villages surrounding the Cahokia site," Denny said, "and the sites are being destroyed due to industrial and other expansion."

Denny said he would like to hear from anyone with information concerning sites uncovered in the area.

People with information may call Denny at SIUE, telephone 1-892-3143, or may call James Anderson at Cahokia.

Utility Poles Burn, Loss Set at $7,500

A stack of about 37 utility poles owned by Illinois Power Co. burned at the 25th Street rail crossing Tuesday evening.

Firemen, who were called at 9:45 p.m., estimated the loss at $7,500. Thick, black smoke and flames were seen over a wide area.

Firemen were on hand about two hours. The cause of the fire was undetermined.

38 Swimmers Earn $2,064 in Swim-A-Thon

Thirty-eight area residents swam to "victory" in a Swim-A-Thon held during the weekend in the YMCA pool.

According to W. D. "Bert" Thomas, chairman, swimmers who were allowed 15 minutes to swim accounted for the following statistics: 1,100 lengths of the 200-yard pool and 350 sponsors who pledged a total of $2,064, based on the number of lengths their swimmer completed.

Swimmers, 4 to 51 years old, completed four to 51 lengths of the pool. Those recording 40 or more lengths were Mary Beatty, Kent Dunn, Paul Christensen, Pete Mushill, Brian Hoff, Tom Werner and Greg Reisinger.

Top fund raisers were Geri Cunningham, Mary Beatty, Larry Dew and Thomas who totaled $1,158 in pledges. Assisting Thomas with records were Debbie Herman, Betty DeVine, Maureen Andria, Debbie Gerkin, Angela Jakich, Donna Kahn, Pam Gagich, Paula Williams, Dennette Reubhausen and Cindy Vaughn.

"Funds raised in the project will be divided between YMCA World Service and local 'Y' needs with the local 'Y' receiving the larger percentage," Thomas said.

Student at Ceylon Addresses Rotarians

"I found that there is an international bond for mutual good and understanding in Rotary," Miss Carol Webb, Alton, told the Madison Rotary Club at its Wednesday noon meeting in the Madison Recreation Center.

Miss Webb attended school in Ceylon on a Rotary International Graduate Scholarship provided by Rotary District 646. Living for a year in the city of Kandy, Miss Webb lived for six weeks as the house guest of a Ceylon Rotarian before moving into the University of Ceylon dorms.

While at the university she studied Buddhist and Indian philosophy in addition to Ceylon government.

"Unfortunately the impression most of the people had of Americans was what they learned that I did not party every night," she related.

"Everyone eats with his fingers and there always is a place nearby where you can wash your hands—I wrote my mother and reminded her how she would tell me not to play with my food, and how in Ceylon I was really having a ball," Miss Webb continued.

"The people are very warm and friendly and I found the country and culture interesting."

Harvey Miller, ticket chairman for the April 14 Beer and Pretzel dance at the American Legion hall in Venice, distributed tickets for the club members to sell.

He reported that Olik's Department Store, Fairman's Hardware Co., Schermer's Market and Gateway Loan Co. all in Madison will have tickets on sale.

Tickets are $5 per couple. Music for dancing will be provided by Wayne Scannell and "The Casuals" from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

GARAGE BURGLARIZED

Elmer Klobe, 2915 Sunset Drive, reported this week that someone stole a boy's 20-inch bicycle from his garage and a statue from his back yard. Entry was gained by breaking the rear door glass.

ATTEMPTED BREAK-IN

An attempted break-in at the home of Lucie Kovachik, 2500 Edwards St., was reported during the weekend by the owner, who said a rear window was broken.

Worker Hit by Chain, Injured Critically

A worker at Lipsett Steel Products Inc., 2320 E. 23rd St., was in critical condition in the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth's Hospital today after a lifting chain reportedly fell from a crane there and struck him at 11 a.m. yesterday.

Frank Cash, 48, of Centerville, was in the bottom of a railroad gondola car in the plant when the chain fell, according to company officials. It struck his head, which was protected by a safety helmet, they indicated.

He was knocked face down onto the bottom of the gondola car and suffered severe facial lacerations from the fall, it was reported.

Fast work by two Mercer Ambulance personnel, Edward Werner and Richard Mizell, may have been partially responsible for saving Cash's life. He was without sign of life when they arrived, it was reported.

They climbed into the gondola car, resumed his heartbeat and inserted breathing apparatus. Cash was kept alive by the ambulance trip to the hospital by Werner and Mizell forcing air into his lungs. At St. Elizabeth's Hospital, an inhalator unit continued to keep him alive.

He was taken into surgery and then admitted to intensive care.

DWI CHARGE FILED
Joseph Craig Peterson, 33, of Indianapolis, Ind., was arrested at 4 a.m. Wednesday at 2700 Pontoon Road on charges of driving while intoxicated and improper lane usage.

AUTOS IN ACCIDENT
Autos driven by Jacob J. Gaudreault, 401 Division St., and Nancy J. Barton, 3204 W. 24th Ave., were in an accident at 6:20 p.m. Tuesday at Terrace Lane and Pontoon Road.

CONDUCT CHARGE FILED
James Thornton, 21, of 2202 Benton St., was arrested at 1 a.m. Wednesday at 2519 Denver St., on a warrant charging disorderly conduct. He was released on $30 cash bail.

MORE ABOUT River Road

Bauer was killed, told the council that "repeated fatal accidents require traffic controls and it's time to do it." Nann has made frequent references in council sessions to the comparative lack of traffic signs or other controls on Route 151.

The Great River Road was built over a two-year period from early 1969 to early 1970. While efforts were made to open the highway from Route 3 south to Nidringhaus avenue in late 1969—the target date for completion—additional work on grading the shoulders and installing guard rails delayed opening of the four-lane stretch until April 1970.

Additional work on extending the highway through the Nidringhaus in Granite City to Venice, where it is to connect with the Broadway underpass and an approach to the McLeary Bridge, is expected to be included in the 1974 highway work schedule of the Illinois State Department of Transportation.

Eventually, the highway is to continue south through through East St. Louis and Dupont.

The most tragic accident occurring on Route 151 since its opening resulted in three fatalities. The first occurred on the site of the accident in which Mrs. Bauer was killed last week.

In that crash, Mrs. Gloria Hill, 26, of 2227 Dewey Ave., her stepson, Daniel Hill, 2, and a niece, Donna Isham, 10, were killed and three other persons were injured.

Subsequent accidents along Route 151 include the death of Malcolm Bradley, 18, of 311 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres. He died June 15, 1971, in a two-car accident at West 20th St. in which two persons also were injured.

Two persons, Miss Nancy Todd, 20, and Willie J. Robertson, both of 20th St., died June 26, 1971, in a crash on Route 151 south of Interstate 270, with two others injured.

And on Dec. 8, 1971, Mrs. Clara Curtis, 71, Wood River, died in a two-car accident on Route 151 at the intersection with Route 3, with one other person injured.

On Sept. 13, 1972, Ralph W. Skaggs, 2800 West 20th St., lost his life in a one-car accident on FA Route 151, a half-mile north of W. 20th Street. A companion was injured critically.

The record of traffic deaths on Route 3 includes that of Clarence A. Ficker, 71, of 2097 Cayuga St., who was killed in an accident at Chain of Rocks Road in which one other person was injured.

On June 4, 1971, Mrs. Clara Redmond, 47, of DeSoto, Mo., was killed on Route 3 at West Pontoon Road; five other persons were injured.

On Aug. 16, 1971, Charles L. Wood, 65, of 2402 Missouri Ave., died in a two-car accident on Route 3 at West Pontoon Road.

Howard A. Hanson Jr., 18, of Chillicothe, Ill., died in a three-car accident on Route 3, also at West Pontoon Road, on Aug. 16, 1971. Five persons were injured in that accident.

An accident in which Jefferson E. Ridings, 75, Rural Route One, Granite City, was injured fatally occurred Sept. 5, 1972, on Route 3 at St. Thomas Road. Two persons were hurt in that accident.

AFTEENHOURS CIRCLE AT STEARNS RESIDENCE

The Afternoon Circle of the Nameoki Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. G. W. Stearns 1 Terrace Lane. The hosts served a dessert luncheon.

The devotion consisted of excerpts from "Evangelist and Missionary to India," the autobiography of E. Stanley Jones. Reservations were taken for the World Day of Prayer at St. Louis on March 2.

Mrs. Louise Anderson reported on a district meeting at the Greeley Presbyterian Church in St. Louis. She also gave the study, "Christians Stir Things Up."

Mrs. Bonni Britton reported on a sewing project and reported she expects to display some of the items at the Association meeting Monday, March 12. She then gave the mission lesson and prayer.

Those present included Mrs. Ruth Todd and Mrs. Fern Mitchell, the latter confined to the Jewell Hospital in St. Louis. Those present included Mesdames Anderson, Britton, Judy Hanks, Violet Monahan and one guest, Mrs. Gemma Bowers.

The next meeting will be the quarterly Association meeting, at which Wayne Sieffer, area pastor on ornamental horticulture, will provide the program. Hostesses will be Mesdames Sieffer, Britton and Anderson.

Ward Candidate Withdrawing in Election Race

Three incumbent Granite City aldermen will be without opposition in the April 3 municipal election following the withdrawal from the campaign by an aldermanic candidate in the Third Ward.

Richard Patton, 2209 E. 24th St., who had filed nominating petitions to oppose Incumbent Alderman Roy Poulos, announced yesterday that he is moving out of the city soon and will make no campaign for the office.

City Clerk Robert Stevens said he informed Patton that it is too late to remove his name from the ballot. Patton said that while his name may remain on the ballot, he will not campaign since he would be ineligible to hold the post if he were elected. Patton said he is planning to move to Belleville.

Last week the Granite City Electoral board held inadequate the nominating petitions of Robert Earl Gates, 2677 E. 23rd, as a candidate for First Ward alderman. Gates was opposing Incumbent Alderman William Dallas.

Levee Trustees Act to Cut Payroll Padding

A new payroll system under which all employees will have to sign for their checks with the timekeeper has been initiated by the St. Clair County levee district trustees in an attempt to avoid payroll padding.

Kornel Wilson, president of the levee board, said the system will insure issuance of checks only to persons who actually work for the district and who appear in person to collect their pay.

The levee district checks also will state across the top, "Property Identification by Demand upon cashing." Wilson said banks and businesses are being asked to obtain identification from the persons cashing the checks.

The safeguards were instituted after recent disclosures that a number of salaries were paid last year to employees no one in the district knew, or who cannot be located now.

POLICE RECOVER TIRES

Four new tires and wheels, which are believed to have been stolen from autos on a railroad train, were found by Venice police Monday under the shelter on the west side of Lee Park in Venice.

Nameoki Road Budget Up 25%; Plan Improvements

A proposed budget for the Nameoki Township highway commissioner of $150,400 was posted Monday at the town hall for public inspection.

The budget includes appropriations and expenditures of $79,400 in the road and bridge fund, $68,500 in the permanent road fund and $5,000 in the Illinois municipal retirement fund.

The total of the three funds is up $20,000 or more than 25% from last year's $119,500 budget.

At a meeting of a committee of township residents studying the budget during the weekend, Albert Bell, highway commissioner, explained that several projects are being planned this year which were not in last year's budget.

Among the projects is the widening of Stratford Lane from Maryville Road to Mockingbird Lane. Another is the widening of Dawn Avenue from the present concrete end to Wabash Avenue.

An improvement of Arlington Road into Arlington Heights, including the straightening of the portion where the old road-way and the new meet, also is being considered.

The department also hopes to grade and clean alleys in the East Madison area if the residents of the area will petition to have the work done. Petitioning by the residents will save the township the expense of dedicating all of the alleys this year.

Bell also said the township has purchased a street sweeper and funds are included in the new budget for continuous cleaning of all paved streets in subdivisions. All projects can be completed without increasing taxes under the new budget, he emphasized.

The 30 or 35 residents present gave their endorsements to the tentative budget.

The proposed road and bridge appropriations, with last year's appropriations in parenthesis, are: maintenance of roads, $27,000 ($14,000); maintenance of culverts and bridges, $16,300 ($3,400); purchase of machinery, $6,000 ($5,000); repairs to machinery, $3,000 ($2,000); construction and maintenance of buildings, $1,400 ($2,300); administration, $13,550 ($11,350); provision for contingencies, $3,750 ($2,250); road drainage, $7,500 (same).

The proposed permanent road fund appropriations are: maintenance of hard roads, $5,500 ($3,500); and improvements, maintenance and repair of earth roads, $63,000 (same).

Estimated appropriations and expenditures from the Illinois municipal retirement fund are $5,000 in the new budget, up $500 from the $4,500 appropriated in last year's highway department budget.

Public Aid May Retain Social Service Programs

Copley News Service
Springfield — Social services for public aid recipients, originally intended for transfer to the department of children and family services next summer, may be remaining with a much expanded department of public aid instead.

No firm decisions have been made as yet, a spokesman in the public aid department said, since new Director Joel Edelman only took over the office on Feb. 12, and is still phasing out his activities as administrator of Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago while functioning here as well.

Originally, a federal mandate directed all departments of public welfare to adopt a "separation" program under which one staff will handle financial maintenance for recipients, while case work in social services will be handled by others who will be free to concentrate on improving the "quality of life" of those receiving aid.

How the separation is to be achieved was left largely to the departments, so long as the program became effective Jan. 1, 1973.

In Illinois, it was decided to keep the financial maintenance programs in public aid, but to leave it up to recipients to decide if they wanted to receive social services.

If they did, they would then go to the department of children and family services to request social services. The program was geared to be phased in on a separated basis by next June.

Now it appears that two separate staffs (both in public aid) will handle the two aspects of public aid work.

Whichever course is followed, large numbers of additional staff will have to be added, and Gov. Dan Walker's executive order freezing personnel numbers has so far prevented any from being hired.

Barbara Wright, public information officer for the department of public aid, said that so far staffs have walked out in two Chicago offices in protest over the extra caseloads.

In one office, the staff remained out for several days while a force of 12 administrators remained on the job, dealing with an office which has 17,000 persons on its rolls.

The workers returned temporarily after the walkout, she said, and current are at work, but picketing on their lunch hours, but it is not known if they may choose to walk out permanently if relief doesn't arrive soon.

The governor reportedly had assured former Director Edward Weaver that the executive order could be waived in cases where situations were "critical" for lack of personnel, but it apparently remains to be seen how "critical" is to be interpreted.

Barbershop Musical Show Saturday Night

The Mississippi Valley Chorus will present its fourth annual "barbershop show," "Steamin' Down the River," at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Webster School auditorium, 108 W. Church St., Collinsville. The group includes a number of Quad-Cityans.

Participating along with a 39-voice chorus will be the Key Pickers comedy quartet, the Federal Reserve Notes, Georgia Girls and Four-Do-Matics.

Tickets are $2 in advance from any member and $2.25 at the door.

Madison Shop Center Plans Under Study

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Plans for construction of two city-owned shopping centers in Madison are being formulated by the city administration and a citizens' committee studying the projects, Mayor Mike Sasyk told the City Council Tuesday night.

Sasyk reported on a meeting last week of the aldermen and citizens. He said, "We've started to move on our commercial areas and we hope real soon to have progress to report."

Progress also is being made in efforts to improve and upgrade the city, he said. A meeting of the new city planning commission is to be held Tuesday night with the city attorney and engineer. They are expected to discuss ways to revitalize areas along State Street in Madison.

Sasyk also reported he is attempting to meet with many of the senior citizens in the city. They are expected to begin planning for construction of a senior citizens' center.

Several city department heads reported on their efforts to clean up yards and alleys in the city. The city attorney was requested to begin legal proceedings against two property owners and the tenants of the two properties which have failed to comply with requests to clean up their yards.

"We want to make sure we are very aggressive in our efforts and make sure we get something done to clean up these yards," Sasyk told the department heads.

Alderman Raymond Kozielek asked if the cause of an explosion May 2, 1972, in the 800 block of Madison Avenue had ever been determined. The blast destroyed several homes and caused about $50,000 in damage.

The Mayor said state experts took samples from the devastated area and conducted extensive tests, but were unable to determine the cause.

"Whoever they were, they were nosy," Sasyk said, referring to speculation that the blast had been the work of arsonists.

A report from Chief of Police Frank Dutko was read in which he detailed results of a study of accidents at the railroad crossing at 13th and State streets. The results showed 20 accidents have occurred at the crossing since 1968 with no fatalities.

Most occurred in poor weather and after dark, Dutko reported. The council voted to write a letter to the Interstate Commerce Commission showing results of the study and citing the lack of crossing warnings.

Sasyk said the city has been offered a 100-foot square parcel of land adjacent to the Stephen Maers Industrial Park for "a very reasonable price." He referred the possible purchase to the industrial committee to study and make a recommendation to the council at its next meeting.

Dutko reported his department has been making efforts to keep trucks from using unauthorized streets near the industrial park. He said the plant supervisors are warning all drivers to stay on the specified truck streets and not on side roads. The police department also is patrolling the area in an attempt to keep trucks off the side streets, particularly at night.

Alderman Don Broyles asked if damage to Farrish Street caused by the trucks could be repaired. Sasyk said the street will be patched as soon as truck traffic on Farrish Street can be halted.

It was reported that a contract between the city and the Madison County Office of Economic Opportunity has been signed for use of the West Madison Memorial Center as a day care center. The facility has been in use by the OEO pending completion of the contract. It will expire July 31.

A resolution to appropriate $5,000 for repairs to newly resurfaced streets was tabled by the council for further study.

The funds are in excess of the bid price and should not be paid until the reason for the excess is known, Sasyk said.

Permission was granted to the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois to conduct Lily Days in the city's shopping centers March 16 and 17.

The Mayor was authorized to sign a proclamation declaring March as Multiple Sclerosis month and the council approved a house to house drive for the March 17, 18 and 19 and the annual "Tag Days" in the city March 2 and 3.

Requests by aldermen for an alley light between Seventh and Eighth and Madison and State streets and for one near 12th and Elizabeth streets were approved.

A complaint by one resident who said his neighbor's citizens' band radio was being heard on his television, radio and telephone, was received.

Sasyk indicated control of CB operators is the responsibility of the Federal Communications Commission and said he would assist the man in notifying the FCC.

The aldermen agreed to purchase a new flag for the council room and to study the cost of cleaning and repairing or replacing the sign for the Madison Memorial Center.

Aurelio Ramirez, 71, Dies; Ill 9 Months

Aurelio Ramirez, 71, of 2410 Delmar Ave., a Granite City resident for 50 years, died at 3:20 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He was born in Mexico and came here at age 21. Mr. Ramirez was a finisher at the American Steel Foundries before he retired.

In ill health for 9 months, he had been admitted to the hospital three days ago.

Mr. Ramirez was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church and also belonged to the Mexican Honorary Commission.

Survivors include his widow, Eva Ramirez; two daughters, Mrs. Virginia Zuniga and Mrs. Bernice Woods, both of Granite City; four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

State-Financed School Buildings Might Cut Costs

A "pay-as-you-build" state controlled capital financing program for schools, which he says might reduce long term cost of facilities as much as one-third, is being proposed by George C. Ackerland, professor of educational administration at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Ackerland cites several other advantages of the proposal, which would be funded by the same source of funds now being used—the real property tax. Some of the principal advantages cited:

1. State approval of building and site plans would reduce duplication and inefficiency in building location and construction.
2. The cost burden of school facilities would be spread throughout the state.
3. Excessive demands for school construction and heavy tax burdens on growing communities would be eased.
4. The approximately $50 million now spent annually on bond interest and service charges would no longer be incurred.
5. Local tax levies for financing other governmental services would be enhanced in many districts.

Ackerland says, "There is no defensible reason for bonding at the state level to finance a full state funding program for capital outlay." He believes a pay-as-you-go program would reduce expenditures for capital facilities, since the interest charges on borrowed funds may represent 50% or more of the cost of a building.

Ackerland's plan would retain control locally in that the local school district still would have the responsibility for planning and operating school facilities.

But local educational decision-making would be relieved from the pressure of capital financing problems.

According to the proposal, local district plans would have to meet pre-specified criteria for design construction, district size and location of buildings. The local district would be responsible for administering actual construction of the schools.

Ackerland said his proposal would meet the test of the criticism raised in recent court cases concerning school financing. It also would meet "the basic principle that the wealth of the state should be used to educate the child, no matter where he lives and no matter what the economic ability of his parents or his school district."

The proposal would provide for full statewide equalization by the providing grants for the full amount of approved school construction projects. The program would be funded by a statewide real property tax.

The state would assume the present bonded debt of school districts and, as of a certain date, become responsible for making all scheduled payments until the bonded debts of all school districts have been paid.

Ackerland suggests that money for prior bonded indebtedness should come from the general fund or from federal revenue sharing funds instead of the real estate tax.

No local district funds would be used, although the sources of revenue would remain the same as at present—the property tax.

The tax rate for school financing would be statewide and would be made "flexible within certain limits so an agency such as the State Board of Education could establish the rate each year as the needs indicate."

Funds would be disbursed to the local school district treasurer in accordance with the construction progress payment schedule. The school board would make payments to the contractor and architect according to the contract schedule.

The local-level board would be responsible for determining when the building contract has been completed and would accept the building when it considers the full performance of the contract has been reached.

Ackerland acknowledges that the real property tax has been under attack but he contends, "It is a good, steady, reliable tax and is not as regressive as many believe."

Ackerland presented his proposal at a regional meeting of school boards at Carmi, and is discussing the subject this week at a meeting of school superintendents at Belleville.

Nameoki PTA Winter Carnival Friday Night

"Founders' Day" was observed by the Nameoki PTA at its February meeting.

Boy Scout Troop 46 and Cub Pack 46, both sponsored by the PTA unit, conducted training ceremonies. Assisting were den leaders, Mrs. Helen Miller and Mrs. Jane Ashah, and Scoutmaster Dwight Smith.

Pack 46 presented the PTA president, Mrs. Joyce Tracy, with a photo of the pack's window display, which earned third place. Also presented were the pack "summertime" award and a 1972 scouting "round-up" ribbon.

All the scouts joined in singing "Happy Birthday" to the PTA, which celebrates its birthday in February.

Mrs. George Holtzschler, a past president who served during the 1946-47 school year, offered the PTA prayer. Reports were given by Mrs. Marian Sipole, Mrs. Tracy and Mrs. Vera Farrow. Correspondence was read from Mrs. Ruth Densford, thanking the PTA for a retirement gift.

The "winter carnival" will be held Friday, March 2, from 6 p.m. until 9 p.m., with numerous games of skill planned in addition to a cake walk, spook house and white elephant tables.

Food service will be available and the menu includes hot dogs and other sandwiches, slaw, salads, desserts and soft drinks. Mrs. Tracy and Mrs. Betty Tester were selected from the nominating committee, and representing the membership will be Mrs. Farrow, Mrs. Donna Lane and Mrs. Miller.

Plans were outlined for a candy sale to begin March 12. Mrs. Linda Givens' third grade class won the parent attendance award.

Mrs. Phyllis Brusatti, vice-president and program chairman, conducted "Founders' Day" activities, using a theme of links in a chain.

Those recognized and taking part were Mrs. Holtzschler, 1946-47 president; Mrs. Dawson Wade, 1949-50; Principal Donald Kopp, 1961-62; Walt Volkman, 1964-65; Mrs. Frank (Vera) Farrow, 1969-70; and Mrs. Lloyd (Katie) Wilson, 1970-71.

Each past president was given an inscribed white ceramic paperweight decorated in the chain motif.

The March meeting will include an art show of both student and adult work, and presentations by Girl Scouts. Refreshments were served by third grade room mothers.

MARGIE MCGARRAHAN IS ETA SIGMA ROSE QUEEN

Margie McGarrahan of Vero Beach was crowned queen of Eta Sigma Chapter of the International Business Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi at its annual Rose Ball held at the Wishbone Restaurant in Bellefonte.

Miss McGarrahan is a senior at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and is majoring in Elementary Education.

Speakers included Bernard T. Pinney, safety and security director, who spoke on the fire and disaster preparedness program and how it affects the volunteers.

Paula Pitts, nurse in charge of the Comprehensive and Psychiatric Unit, discussed the unit's services and Ralph Hausmann, social service director, explained the objectives of medical social work at the hospital.

Others addressing the group were J. Ronald Payton, personnel director, who related sources of recruitment and explained rules and regulations applicable to volunteers; Frank McGinnis, controller, who talked about out-patient services and details of hospital room rates; and Paul Raczewicz, resident administrator, who spoke about the position of the volunteer service as a regular department in the hospital.

After the program a business meeting was conducted and Auxiliary members voted to purchase a "treadmill" to be used in stress tests for the EKG unit.

Refreshments were served by Polly Gonzales and Mrs. Sylvia Brylak.

Eagles Auxiliary State Meet Here

Mrs. Brenda Rickert, president of Eagles Auxiliary Unit 1158, presided at a meeting Tuesday evening and announced plans for a state officers' session to take place Saturday and Sunday at the Eagles Lodge on Madison Avenue.

A potluck dinner will be served Saturday evening and a noon luncheon on Sunday. Entertainment will be furnished by the Eagleslee Kitchen Band.

Initiation ceremonies will be conducted by the Jerseyville Lodge ritual team, which includes Mrs. Doris Smith, Mrs. Joyce Brockman, Mrs. Susan Frederick and a Mrs. Cattlehead Reed, it was announced.

Also planned for the spring was a rummage sale to be sponsored by the local ritual team.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by Mesdames Helen Lipchick, Opal Cain, Theresa Danco and Ann Konopka. The evening's prize was presented to Mrs. Rickert.

Area Ministers Plan Workshop

Special workshop sessions concerning two proposed programs for the area will highlight a regular meeting Tuesday of the Quad-City Ministerial Association, the Rev. Donald Bogue, association president, announced today.

Development of a Protestant chaplaincy program at St. Elizabeth Hospital and a ministerial counseling service in conjunction with the Granite City Office of Coordinated Youth Services is planned during the workshop, the minister said.

Both programs previously have been reviewed by association members and each has been requested by the specific agency to be served, the Rev. Bogue said.

The meeting will commence at 9 a.m. Tuesday at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Dance Saturday Aids Jr. Tamms

A St. Patrick's Dance will be held Saturday, starting at 8:30 p.m., at the Crovian Home, 10th Street and Madison Avenue, Madison, sponsored by the Happy Strings Junior Tamms.

Music will be furnished by the Jim Sinovic Band and corn beef and cabbage will be available. The sponsors reported. Admission to the dance is set at $1.50 per person, with children under 12 admitted free.

Proceeds from the dance will be used to help finance a trip by the Junior Tamms to an international music festival in Canada during July.

Area PE Instructors to Hear Dr. Bette Logsdon

Dr. Bette Logsdon, professor of physical education and recreation at Bowling Green State University, Ohio, and a graduate of Granite City High School, will be featured at the 8th Annual Physical Education Conference, set Saturday at Lewis and Clark Junior College at Godfrey.

The event, scheduled to start at 8 a.m. and conclude at 3:15 p.m., is being sponsored by the Southwestern District of the Illinois Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation and the Lewis and Clark Junior College.

Dr. Logsdon graduated with a bachelor of science degree from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and received her master's degree from the University of Michigan. She earned her doctor of philosophy degree at the Ohio State University.

The educator co-authored the "Ready? Set...Go! Teachers Manual" and "Ready? Set...Go! Teacher's Manual Level II" for National Instructional Television, Bloomington, Ind. Pioneering in the field of teacher training, Dr. Logsdon was successful in establishing a teacher training program that brought about the joint cooperation of the university level and the public school.

During her career, Dr. Logsdon has been the recipient of numerous awards, including the Amy Morris Homans Fellowship Award from Wellesley College. She currently is a nominee for the office of vice-president of physical education for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Also to be featured in a segment on soccer, explaining skills, drills and lead-up games, are Bob Kehoe and his wife Jane. The latter has been a teacher in the Granite City School District for eight years and has coached and managed girls soccer in this area for five years.

Her husband is head coach of the St. Louis Stars professional soccer team and was assisting in planning the conference include Miss Ann Johnson, Stallings School, who is serving as conference chairman; and Miss Leigh Heller of Parkview School.

Other conference personnel are Miss Barbara Kerch, Granite City School District consultant in physical education; Miss Joanne Higgins, and Mrs. Sandy Bowler, Wilson School; Mrs. Judy Collins, Marshall School; and Miss Margaret Roberts, Maryville School.

Idea of March Supper At McKinley Tomorrow

"Children's Dental Week" and Boy Scout Month were highlighted by members of the McKinley PTA at their February meeting.

Ray Buentge introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Naseed Shory, assistant dean of the School of Dentistry at SIUE. He spoke on proper dental health and illustrated his talk with slides.

Cub Scouts of Pack Eight, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church, presented a play under the direction of Lesley Brier, Mrs. Mary Ann Walker and Mrs. Sadie Bringer.

Bethel 43 Plans Official Visit

Plans for an official visit of the grand guardian of Illinois to a March 13 meeting of Bethel 43, Order of Job's Daughters, were discussed Tuesday evening at a meeting of the local chapter at the Masonic Temple.

Guests of honor will be Misses Sue Sackett and Becky Graham, members of Bethel 43. Miss Bella Blankenship, honored queen, president at this week's session. Plans also were made to attend the Alton Bethel's program March 26 when local officers will fill the stations. An invitation was read from the Granite City DeMolay chapter to attend a dance Tuesday.

Members agreed to purchase a bond for the Bonds For Braces program to be contributed to the Shriner's Crippled Children's project. Miss Sackett, librarian, gave a reading entitled "The Shortest Distance" and the sunshine chairman, Kathy Lane, reported greeting cards were mailed.

Those escorted and introduced were Mrs. Eleanor Todoroff and Miss Mickey Fritz, both past honored queens; Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson, worthy patron and worthy matron of New Hope Chapter 432; Mrs. Wanda Kincaid, worthy high priestess of Gabriel Shrine 78; Betty and Harry McClintock, associate matron and associate patron of Granite Chapter 650; Miss Sackett, grand representative to Colorado from Illinois.

Miss Bella Blankenship, honorary state senior custodian and president of the Area Princess Club. Mrs. Nell Baskette, Bethel 43 guardian and Dr. Amos Rode, associate guardian. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ruth Houser, president of the Mother's Club, assisted by Mrs. Madeline Pope.

Circle Hears Mrs. Innes

Mrs. Sandy Innes was the guest speaker at a meeting Tuesday evening of the Every Member Busy Circle of Nameoki United Methodist Church held in the home of Mrs. Ida Mason, 2224 Lynch Ave. Mrs. Alice Beck served as co-hostess.

After the program, Mrs. Helene Bischoff, president, conducted a business session and plans were completed to attend the Passion Play on May 5 in Bloomington, Ill. Workshops also were arranged to prepare items for sale at the October bazaar held at the church.

Mrs. Virginia Carroll and Mrs. Jane Patton were named co-hostesses for the March meeting, to be held in the Patton home.

Twenty-two members attended, including guests, Mrs. Innes, Mrs. Ruth Thornberry, Mrs. Cindy Bailey and Mrs. Jennie Gantcheff.

Lapinski-Cole Betrothal Told

The engagement and forthcoming marriage of Miss Jessica Marie Cole and First Lieutenant Lauren Thomas Lapinski are being announced.

Miss Cole, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin J. Cole Sr., of Wood River, will be spring quarter graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She will receive a bachelor of science degree in Business Administration.

Bellcoff Heads Girl Scout Council Sustaining Membership Campaign

John Bellcoff, city clerk of Madison and a representative of The First National Bank in Madison, has been named chairman of the 1973 sustaining membership campaign of the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council.

The council promotes and directs Girl Scout programs in the counties of Calhoun, Jersey, Madison and St. Clair and parts of Macoupin, Clinton, Monroe and Randolph counties.

"Sustaining memberships give girls of Girl Scouting an opportunity to identify with the program and to assist in balancing the council's budget," Bellcoff said. "Approximately 18% of the funds needed by the council are derived from sustaining memberships where fathers of scouts volunteer to call on other parents of Girl Scouts to solicit memberships.

"The River Bluffs Council serves over 15,000 girls with the aid of more than 2,300 adult volunteers. The council also operates seven camps.

"The drive will run through March.

"With more girls participating in the scouting program and the continuing inflationary cycle, we need more money than at any time in the history of the River Bluffs Council," Bellcoff commented. "It is most gratifying to note the many fathers who have already volunteered to assist in the drive. There appears to be real enthusiasm in each of our communities to help Girl Scouting. With this spirit I know that we'll reach our goals," he concluded.

World Day of Prayer at SIUE Religious Center

The Religious Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is the location Friday for this year's "World Day of Prayer" program. The event is sponsored annually by the Quad City Church Women United organization.

Mrs. Joyce Mitchell, chairman, today announced that baby-sitting services will be available at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, where mothers planning to attend the services may bring their youngsters. A sack lunch should be provided for each child, she added.

Roadtrip transportation by chartered bus, costing $1.50 per person, also will be furnished tomorrow, with 30 seats still open for passengers to the SIUE services. Reservations will be accepted by calling Mrs. Harriet Lovins, at 877-6836.

The buses will depart promptly at 9 a.m. Friday from the Madison United Methodist Church, 5th Street and Ewing Avenue, Madison; St. Peter's Evangelical United Church of Christ, 2103 Cleveland Blvd.; and Central Christian Church on Johnson Road.

Registration will take place at 9:30 a.m. at the SIUE Religious Center. The program, entitled "Alert in Our Times," will begin at 10 a.m.

Conducting the services will be the Rev. Russ Wigfield, a Christian minister, who will speak on the topic "Alert in Our Times." The Rev. Joe Santerre, a Baptist minister, who will discuss the subject "Alert in Our Times," and the Rev.

Mark Pera, a Lutheran pastor, who will review the subject "Alert to the World." All are associated with the United Campus ministry at SIUE.

A worship service conducted by the Rev. James Shortall, a Catholic priest, also is a member of the SIUE United Campus Ministry, will begin at 1 p.m., following a sack lunch.

Women from the Madison United Methodist Church will serve as hostesses, providing cookies and coffee, Mrs. Mitchell said.

Buses will leave the SIUE campus at 2 p.m. for Granite City. A display of religious books and a liturgical dance will be featured as part of the World Day of Prayer program.

Chapter HT to Elect Officers

Chapter HT of the PEO Sisterhood met Monday in the home of Mr. R. W. Kerch, 2910 State St., to complete plans for an election of officers at the March 12 meeting and also to select delegates to attend the supreme convention at New Orleans in September.

The president, Mrs. Paul Surbey, presided at the meeting and various committee reports were submitted by chairman. Mrs. B. S. Miller presented the program, based on a study of the organization's by-laws. Mrs. E. H. Baker, 3333 Harvard Place, will entertain the chapter at its next meeting.

ALERT IN OUR TIMES posters, reflecting the theme of the World Day of Prayer program, set Friday at the SIUE Religious Center, are previewed by Mrs. Sue Bogus, left, chairman for the host church, Madison United Methodist, and Mrs. Joyce Mitchell, World Day of Prayer chairman for Church Women United, sponsor of the annual event.

Progressive Dinner, Dance

Jacques entertained their husbands at a progressive dinner held prior to a dance at the Joyce clubhouse on Poplar Street.

Fifteen couples gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Weible, 3328 Harvard Place, for a social hour. A red-and-white theme was used.

Guests then traveled to 2505 Sheridan Ave., the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cooper, for a salad course. The project chairman for the event was Mrs. Janis Weible and social chairman is Mrs. Linda Weible. The next social will be a St. Patrick's Day dance.

and there were red and white streamers.

Place mats were double red hearts with white heart place cards. Red rose corsages were at the place settings.

Dessert was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gann, 4036 Melrose Ave., where a candlelight setting greeted the group.

For the dance, the hall was decorated with red and white streamers and photographs of each couple were taken against a background of a large red heart.

The project chairman for the event was Mrs. Janis Weible and social chairman is Mrs. Linda Weible. The next social will be a St. Patrick's Day dance.

Granite Cityans In Vocal Concert

The choral groups of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will give a concert at 8:15 p.m. Monday in the Communications Building theater. The public is invited, admission free.

The program will open with the University Chorus, under the direction of William Claudson, singing "A Hymn of St. Columbo" by Benjamin Britten, followed by Verdi's "Stabat Mater." Lana Turner, East Alton, will accompany at the piano.

Under the direction of Leonard Van Camp, the Community Chorus will sing three unaccompanied works by Brahms and a work for orchestra and chorus adapted by Van Camp and chorused by Van Camp for instrumental ensemble. John Tilley, Decatur, will be the pianist for the last number.

Instrumentalists include James Kerlan, Collinsville, flute; Beth Ledbetter, Granite City, oboe; James Cochran, Collinsville, clarinet; Paula Melton, Florissant, violin; Lisa Hood, Collinsville, bassoon; Beverly Field, St. Louis, cello; and Greg Reynolds, Belleville, harp.

Following intermission, women in the Concert Chorus, also directed by Van Camp, will do "The Cuckoo," an American folk song arranged by Greg Smith, accompanied by guitar. Steve Schenck, Granite City, and flutist Toby Schulz, St. Louis.

The male members of the choral groups include "Stodole Pumpa," a Czech song featuring Paul Mabrey, Granite City, as soloist.

The vocal choir will sing a Gilbert and Sullivan selection, "Merrily Ring the Luncheon Bell," arranged by Ralph Hunter.

The finale will be a performance of "A Shaker Worship Service" by folk singer "Sally Terri." Miss Terri's work was premiered at SIUE last month while she was on campus.

Dinner Honors Mark Rigbsy

Mark Rigbsy was guest of honor during the weekend at a surprise birthday party given at the Round Table Restaurant by his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Don Twilman, of St. Louis, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wolf, 31 Del Rio Drive, assisted by Ralph Thompson of Granite City. He was 21 years of age.

The dinner was served to 60 guests, among whom were several of his high school classmates now attending Southern Illinois University, Western Illinois University, SIU at Carbondale and Edwardsville, Missouri University and Illinois State University.

Several of his fraternity brothers from SIUE also were in attendance, along with local friends and relatives.

Out-of-town guests from St. Louis and Des Moines, Ia., also were present.

Following dinner, music was furnished by the honoree's brother, Kelvin Twilman and his band from St. Louis, for an evening of dancing.

The evening was highlighted by Bruce Bruttery, a student of SIU-Carbondale, who appeared dressed as a "bunny" and presented Rigbsy with a club key. Earl Parsons, formerly of Granite City and former sponsor of the Rock Club here, from San Francisco, where he now resides. He also spoke with several of the former Rock members at the party.

Susan M. Lucido Is Bride-Elect

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Lucido, 2541 E. 25th St., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Susan Marie Lucido, to Timothy J. Thompson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Thompson, 2548 Waterman Ave.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of the St. Ignace Academy, St. Louis, and attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for two years. She is now employed as a bookkeeper by United Food Distributor Inc., St. Louis.

Her fiancé was graduated from Assumption High School, East St. Louis, and St. Benedict College in Atchison, Kan. He presently is working as a salesman for the Scott-Rice Co., St. Louis.

Wedding plans are indefinite at the present time.

Area Juvenile Officers Install

New officers of the Metro-East Juvenile Officers Association were installed by Circuit Judge William Beatty at the group's monthly dinner meeting Monday evening at Charlie's Restaurant.

Those who will lead the organization in 1973-74 are: James Randolph, juvenile officer, East St. Louis Police Department, president; Lee Ostrander, regional supervisor of community services, Juvenile Division, Illinois Department of Corrections, vice-president; and Tony Golac, legal investigator, Belleville, secretary-treasurer.

About 35 persons attended the dinner and heard Judge Beatty discuss juvenile problems and the part played by the court and juvenile officers, who work closely with school administrators, social workers and police department personnel.

The association set its next meeting for March 26 at Augustine's Restaurant, Belleville.

GC Junior Service Rehearsing For March 31 Follies Benefit

"Love Makes the World Go Around" is the title of a "follies show," currently being rehearsed by the Granite City Junior Service Club for presentation to the public Saturday evening, March 31, at Namooki Grand School. Mrs. Marge Penning is directing the revue.

A family-oriented charity benefit, the show is intended to raise money for the club's eye-glass fund through which needy school children are given eye examinations and a d. furnished with eyeglasses by the service group. Mrs. Charlene Pohlman and Mrs. Colleen Sheikh, co-chairmen explained.

Serving as musical director is Paul Mabrey. Among the special groups who will appear during the evening will be a group of nuns under the direction of Sister Mary Karla, principal of St. Ann's School.

RAYMOND SNELSON SR. Snelson New Boy Scout District Commissioner

A. Raymond Snelson Jr., 2117 Clark St., was approved as new Uniwah (Quad-City) district commissioner by the executive board of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the late February meeting in the First Granite City National Bank conference room.

Snelson was recommended to the board by Robert Hillard, Uniwah district chairman.

A native of Granite City, Snelson and his wife, Reggie, have a 9-month-old daughter Michele.

He has been serving in Scouting as an assistant district commissioner for the local district. As a boy in Scouts, he was a member of Troop 22 sponsored by Frohardt PTA where he earned the rank of Life Scout. While a Scout he attended Camp Sunnen three summers.

Snelson is a Brotherhood member of the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow.

As a Cub Scout in Pack 22 he earned the Webelos award. Snelson and his family are members of St. John's United Church of Christ. Employed as a cost analyst for the Granite City District of the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co., he is a member of Local No. 13, Clerks and Office Employees Union.

Hillard announced to the board that Leo Konzen, a local attorney, has accepted the position of organization and extension chairman for the local district and that Dave Brooks is now the activity chairman for the local district.

In other action the Boy Scout board approved Everett Turnbaugh of Edwardsville and Charles Mables, 113 Booker St., Madison, as unit commissioners.

Herman Schroeder of Granite City Realty Co. was elected to serve on the executive board of the Cahokia Mound Council. Dr. Thomas Layloff, activity chairman for the council, reported that on Feb. 16 letters were sent to all unit leaders asking them to return a post card listing activities they would like on a district or council level in the coming year.

Dr. Layloff explained that as the unit leaders express their ideas by returning the cards the council calendar will be built around the suggestions.

Layloff further announced that at the request of several Scoutmasters a council camp-out was scheduled for Oct. 12, 13 and 14 at the Cahokia Mound State Park.

A Commissioner conference will be held, according to Council Commissioner Jack Vance, on Mar. 10 at the Eden United Church of Christ in Edwardsville.

W. F. "Mick" Strange of Madison, Council camping chairman, reported that Camp Sunnen will have a record attendance this summer. He said the large attendance was due to two factors, one being that the Scout Troops attending last summer had a very good experience and that the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow had launched an intensified camp promotion program for this coming summer.

Strange further reported that the Order of the Arrow was holding a pancake and sausage breakfast at St. Elizabeth Catholic church on Mar. 25 to raise funds for a new unit camping site at Camp Sunnen.

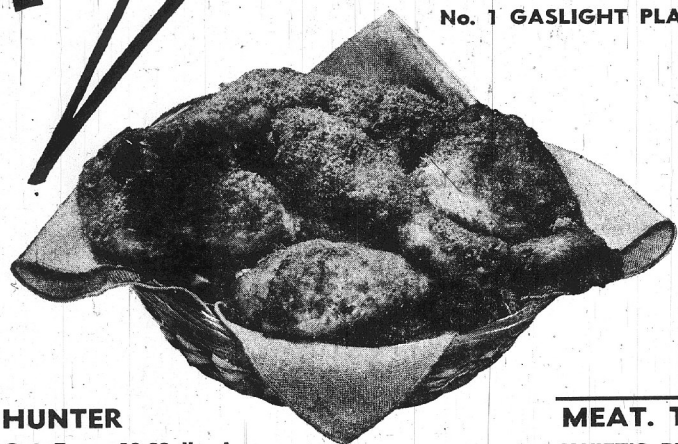

E. Ray Grisham, vice-president of local Kiwanis Clubs in the council area again plan to sponsor "Funds-a-Poplin" sales Sept. 22 through Sept. 30.

President Melvin Gillie announced that the next meeting of the executive board will be Mar. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Granite City National Bank.

Comment and Analysis

Percy Prodding U.S. to Reduce Infant Death Rate by Requiring Improved Design and Construction of Crib

Comment by the Press-Record bureau in Washington — Before any more babies strangle in their cribs, Sen. Charles H. Percy says the Food and Drug Administration must act quickly on safety standards for cribs.

The Illinois Republican praised the FDA for a "significant step forward" in disclosing plans for new mandatory standards in the next few weeks.

Percy in a letter to FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards warned, however, that further delay in setting standards could lead to needless additional "tragedies and heartbreak" for parents.

"In the four years since this issue arose, scores of parents have lost cherished sons and daughters, while a few crib makers—their eyes only on the cash register—have unconsciously cut corners to ring up higher profits," Percy charges.

Percy wrote Edwards that he understood the proposed regulations will require manufacturers to space vertical slats considerably closer than the 3 1/2-inch voluntary standard. He hailed this step because at least 15% of all cribs on the market fail to meet even that standard.

Other FDA proposals include:

1. Minimum rail heights and standard interior dimensions.
2. Specifications for release mechanisms and other safety devices.
3. Paint and coating surfaces meeting FDA regulations.
4. Elimination of "toe holds" which permit babies to climb out of their cribs.
5. Elimination of sharp edges and protrusions.

Urging Edwards to move quickly on final standards, the Senator said, "I know you feel as I do, that we must act now to insure that the safety and well-being of helpless infants is placed ahead of all other considerations."

Physical Activity Called Key to a Healthy Heart

What with the arrival of great golfing weather here last weekend and yesterday—even though several weeks of winter remain—many Quakers and others will be receptive to a new call for physical activity, issued last week at a seminar at the University of Illinois.

"The most probable cause of coronary heart disease in our country is not diet, is not obesity, is not stress. Rather, it is physical inactivity," said Dr. George V. Mann, Vanderbilt University School of Medicine, during the seminar.

He reported on a ten-year study with the Maasai people of East Africa. He noted that although they eat large amounts of animal fat and milk, they have low levels of serum cholesterol and the incidence of atherosclerosis (arterial lesions) is high. But, paradoxically, coronary heart disease is almost nonexistent.

In Dr. Mann's opinion, serum cholesterol level is an inefficient index of atherosclerosis. "We suspect, and are working on the possibility, that certain food additives may contribute to this problem by facilitating absorption and reabsorption of intestinal cholesterol."

Reviewing data from a number of studies by other scientists, Dr. Mann emphasized that in cultures and places where people must work hard physically, there is less coronary heart disease.

He noted that people with high blood pressure tend to have more heart disease; because high blood pressure is the principal precursor of heart disease, it needs to be detected earlier and managed more efficiently.

Dr. Mann continued, "Despite all the hoopla about eating polyunsaturated fats to maintain a low serum cholesterol level, it is my opinion that the diet does not go far for the prevention of coronary heart disease."

He suggested that women in particular should welcome the various physical fitness programs recommended because of the side effect—an improved figure.

His conclusion: Studies strongly suggest that fitness, induced and maintained, will prevent and relieve much of the present prevalence of heart disease.

BIDS SOON ON JOHNSON-NAMEKOEI ROAD SIGNALS

To the Editor:

Regarding traffic signal modification at Johnson and Namekoei Roads, the fine letter written by Bruce Provance in the March 26 issue indicates the growing concern of the public for improvements to our highways.

A few weeks ago, the Press-Record carried a news item headed "City OK's Funds for Traffic Safety," stating that the City Council had approved a $25,000 appropriation as the city share of the improvement. The estimated total cost of the improvement is $83,500.

This work will be done through the Illinois Division of Highways with federal aid through the government's Traffic Operation Program to Improve the Capacity and Safety (TOPICS) of City Streets.

Harland Bartholomew & Associates of Clayton are designing the intersection changes and the signal modifications. Harold Theerman of that firm indicated this week that the plans and specifications would be ready for bidding in late summer or early fall of this year.

This is certainly good news to all the motorists who have fought through this intersection for many years.

Our mayor and City Council should be congratulated for finding a way to get this bottleneck opened up.

THINKS CANDIDATES ARE TRYING TO FOOL PUBLIC

To the Editor:

My family received a letter from the Village Improvement Party of Pontion Beach. It struck me as funny because it made statements that already appear in the law.

The candidates promised they would use a special surveying five-point plan for efficiency. Our civics teacher has just gone over the subject of how candidates will promise they are going to do it, and then for the people while knowing that the state requires them to do it already.

We are educated people now and cannot be fooled by promises such as "no major purchases without bids," and "all citizens allowed a voice in their government."

They use the words "honest," clean and good" when talking of themselves and "smear," "discredit," "defame," "slandering" when talking of their opposition.

All candidates should take note that as 18-year-olds now vote and will not be fooled.

We are out to elect the best qualified candidates, not those who make the most long-winded promises.

Look, Ma! No cavities... Impossible! Not according to a band of dental enthusiasts who are preaching the new gospel of preventive dentistry. They claim: "You can keep all your teeth for your life. You don't have to suffer from cavities or bleeding gums."

The secret is a technique known as "plaque control." And recent research has proved it can stop plaque diseases—and save teeth. Plaque is a transparent, sticky coating formed by the mixture of saliva with the accumulated microscopic germs on the teeth and gums present even in healthy mouths. These germs loath the gums and make acids which attack the teeth. Often they are the cause of bad breath.

Plaque takes about 24 hours to build up on clean teeth, so the solution seems obvious: Remove the plaque once a day. Easier said than done, however. Plaque is transparent, hard to see. It's impossible to brush and brush and still leave traces of plaque on the sides and backs of the teeth.

Many of the plaque control dentists are teaching their patients how to remove plaque. Some advocate use of a red tooth-dye which, when chewed, leaves a red stain on plaque and food particles, making them easy to see.

Others show patients how to clean the surfaces of their teeth with waxy mouthwash or a special cavity brush. Some use small mirrors with long handles that help the patient see the backs of his teeth. Others show patients how to clean the sides of the teeth with dental floss. Techniques vary. But many dentists are skeptical about the entire approach. In fact, only some 15 percent of dentists in the U.S. advocate this form of plaque control.

Still, a recent survey of dentists in the U.S. showed that the end result of plaque control is the same: fewer cavities. The American Dental Association, for one, worries that plaque control will overshadow other practices. Still, a recent survey of preventive dentistry—including fluoridation and proper diet. And John Green, D.M.S., who directs the dental division of the U.S. Public Health Service, says, "There is a limit to how much you can manage plaque—it's not going to completely solve the decay problem."

Still, a recent survey of dentists showed that while the great majority are not giving their patients instructions in plaque control, many are interested in starting such programs. The problem, they concluded, is that the American public—twenty million of whom have lost all their natural teeth—has lost all their natural teeth. Most residents take part in the last six months before they qualify for parole. Those convicted of murder, aggravated kidnapping or treason are not accepted.

It sounds like a cushy way to spend a prison term, don't mention it to the inmates.

60 of 177 Illinois Representatives Are Lawyers, 24 Are in Business, 11 Teach, Nine Operate Farms

Copley News Service

Springfield — If you want to be a state legislator, you'd better be a lawyer.

This random comment may or may not be true. But if the Illinois House is any indication, the statement has some basis in fact.

Of the 177 representatives currently in the Statehouse, 69 are either lawyers or are engaged in some aspect of the legal profession.

This figure is quite high if compared to other professions represented.

Private business or working for large corporations is the next most frequent occupation: 24 Illinois state representatives have a business background.

Other professions well represented in the House are state and government service with 17, teaching with 11, insurance with 10 and farming with nine.

The remaining 48 representatives are engaged in other varied types of work, such as marketing, real estate, advertising, date processing, engineering, building construction, medicine and police and fire department.

With the workload in the Statehouse increasing every year, it is becoming more and more difficult to have an occupation outside the legislature.

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield — The breaking out of prisons all over Illinois nowadays, with active help from prison personnel.

In several communities, the lab technician who assists your dentist, the union painter redoing your living room and the motel cook who fixes your steak may all have "broken out," and nobody's even looking for them.

Actual prison officials don't have to look; they helped put them there.

The men—and some women—are part of the state's three-year work release program which lets a convicted felon who passes intensive screening live in the outside community, earn money and spend some support his family and pay taxes like anybody else.

So far, more than 600 have taken part, earning over $1,000,000, paying $150,000 in state and federal income taxes, and saving more than $175,000 to get their families off public aid rolls.

They also have a much better chance of being reconciled to families whose initial impulse is just to write them off.

Most residents take part in the last six months before they qualify for parole. Those convicted of murder, aggravated kidnapping or treason are not accepted.

Rep. Robert Brinkmeier, D-Forreston, a teacher-coach for 23 years, says that, due to the conflict often found between one's occupation and his job as a legislator, "many representatives can't afford to be here."

He cited as an example the fact that no incumbent senator within 100 miles of Brinkmeier's district ran for reelection. They noted the heavy volume of work and the loss of income they would suffer.

Rep. Harold Stedelin, D-Centralia, a retired engineer, stressed that legislative duties today consume "too many hours."

The legislature, he continued, "is getting to be a full-time job. It is getting extremely difficult to hold down two full positions."

Rep. Joseph Ebelles R-DeKalb, an optometrist, said that he has a conflict between his practice and his legislative duties. He said he has to cancel a large number of patients due to the meeting of the legislature.

Rep. Harold Washington, D-Chicago, a practicing attorney, believes that the increasing amount of work in the legislature, a legislator's profession has to suffer.

According to Bill Lash, work release coordinator, most of the residents feel the program is harder than just serving out their time in "the joint."

Some can't make it at all. Out of 639 participants, 43 have been sent back because they just couldn't handle semi-freedom.

Those who make it have to work their way up through levels, from "freshmen" who have "kitchen police" and custodial duty, get minimum allowances and no free time in the community through sophomore ($15 weekly spending money, one shopping trip a month) and junior ($25 weekly, two shopping trips a month) and finally to senior status.

A big fringe benefit above all is a cash advantage for taxpayers, too.

It costs an estimated $8,000 to $10,000 a year to keep a convict in confinement. Last year, it cost $4,400 for each work release resident.

"For many of these men," Lash says, "this is a better way of life than anything they've ever known."

They take great care of their rooms and you should see some of their faces when they see they've actually got $100 in the bank. Many of them never had a bank account before. We have to show them how to write a check."

Biggest need now, Lash feels, is for more participation. "One of our biggest problems is that we can't accommodate all that we have."

"The workload in the House is increasing yearly," he pointed out. "There is ten times more work today than eight years ago."

Washington also pointed out that—to do one's job adequately in the legislature—one must cut back on his own business. "Law is a personalized thing," he said. "You can't delegate it to someone under you."

Rep. James Von Beckman, D-Pekin, a mechanical supervisor for CPC International in Pekin, offered a different view. "I believe two jobs are possible, depending on the individual."

Von Beckman explained that the two jobs may consume 16 hours a day and leave little time for television and other activities. But it is possible, he says, "depending on what you want out of life."

Lawyers may be the largest body found in the Illinois House, but they also face the most criticism.

Rep. Brinkmeier explained that "many people resent that lawyers seek to dominate both houses and manipulate bills, such as pensions and salaries, implied consent and insurance laws."

"Lawyers often vote as a bloc and they happen to be the biggest bloc in the legislature."

City Election Campaign Focusing On Offices of Mayor, Supervisor

(Second of Two Columns)

Which came first—the chicken or the egg?

It might be assumed to be inevitable that the Granite City Mayor Donald Partney and Granite City Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer would seek re-election to new four-year terms in 1973. Most public officials do try for reelection.

When Paul Schuler announced his candidacy for mayor, Party associates presumably concluded that the mayor's rival was being backed by Hagnauer. The supposed result of this reasoning: Filing by a "Party" supervisor candidate, Ralph Astorian.

Whether or not this was the sequence, or the actual cause and effect, Astorian is speaking out on behalf of Partney and against Hagnauer and Schuler. It is unknown to what extent the strategy is that some of the acknowledged Partney vote-getting power may rub off on Astorian.

Defending Mayor Partney, Astorian describes Schuler as "front man for the power play." As he sees it: "The men behind the scenes add the intrigue and depth of old organizational politics."

Same game, but time has given new players a part in the mysterious inner circle... a seemingly unlikely array of citizens with varied and apparently unrelated interests.

"Yet, there seems to be a common thread weaving in and out of the network that gives cohesiveness to the web in which they hope to ensnare the incumbent Mayor Partney and reclaim Granite City for the old unionism with its strong support from Madison."

Astorian links to the Schuler campaign a school board member who is a relative employed at the candidate's pharmacy; an attorney whose legal clients include governmental agencies; and a high-ranking administrator of the Granite City school district.

The school administrator advised the Press-Record that he regards his position as providing involvement in the mayor campaign on behalf of either candidate.

The would-be supervisor directs much of his argument against Supervisor Hagnauer. Astorian relates that Hagnauer "holds such positions as Granite City Township supervisor, chairman of the Madison County Board, ex-officio liquor commissioner of Madison County."

Democratic chairman of Granite City, and ex-officio member of the assessment board and the county government."

Astorian contends that Hagnauer "controls the purse strings of all county offices, including the state's attorney's office which seemingly cannot do anything to do about possible charges of conflict of interest against Schuler, who sells drugs to the Madison County sheriff's office."

He repeats the Partney group's allegation that Schuler sold drugs "to recipients of Granite City relief from Hagnauer's office and for which Schuler voted to pay himself, using his position as town board member." Schuler has denied it.

As noted in an early February forum letter in the Press-Record, a pro-Party citizen has reported seeing preparation of pro-Schuler signs in a building.

ing operated by a Madison building inspector.

Astorian says the sign boards formerly were used by Sheriff John Maers of Madison in his sheriff's campaign.

The would-be supervisor speculates that city and school council could add political muscle to those achieving it, and implies that this is a Hagnauer goal.

Astorian calls it ironic that "Hagnauer, who usually enjoys heavy union support, allows purchase of drugs from the one men who is an unorganized drug firm in the city, which has survived and grown fat in the center of one of the nation's most unionized areas."

A Tri-City Trades and Labor Council spokesman said the description of the store is inaccurate, and cited the store's council endorsement. He said that both Schuler and Hagnauer and non-endorsement of Partney and Astorian.

The strategy being followed seems to be an attempt to tie Schuler so closely with Hagnauer that the latter becomes the issue in both the mayor and supervisor races.

Certainly, the list of offices the supervisor holds is impressive.

Interestingly enough, this fact may partly counter the allegation of Madison interest.

The extent of power gathered by the Granite City Democratic chairman already is worrisome to the city's Madison wing, which may not desire to see Hagnauer's influence expand any further.

In any event, the intense spotlight being placed on Schuler's business and Hagnauer's jobs is likely to be countered by fuller exploration of the Partney and Astorian candidacies by those they oppose.

Winning individuals who appear likely to be discussed are Dick Allen, campaign manager for the mayor and a former Granite City Democratic chairman.

Allen and former State's Attorney Dick Mudge "backed the mayor" in the 1972 election, serving as a "truth squad" to disagree with statements by Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon during the primary campaign.

Simon lost the Democratic gubernatorial nomination to Dan Walker, now governor.

Also in the campaign spotlight may be Alderman Walter Nomm, an active Partney backer and the alderman with longest service.

One contention being heard is that, if Mayor Partney is re-elected, he might let some point, setting the stage for Nomm to take over as mayor.

This is denied by the mayor's associates, who say Partney would serve the full four years. They add that vacancies are filled by the council, which is not limited to the senior alderman in selecting a mayor.

Cub Scouts Entertain Wilson PTA

Homemade instruments provided background music for songs presented by Cub Scouts of Pack 122, who gave a program at the February meeting of the Wilson School Parent-Teacher Association.

Pack members conducted a flag ceremony and led the audience in reciting the pledge of allegiance. Performing on homemade musical instruments were Cub Scouts Kerry Schaefer, Don Ogden, Tracy Gunther and Matthew Belovich.

In a brief ceremony, Donald Ogden of the Pack 122 committee presented a charter to Mrs. Harriet Evans, acting PTA president.

Reports were given by Mrs. Mary Belovich, secretary, and Fred Stille, treasurer. Successful results of a recent candy sale project were related by Mrs. Audrey Laird, ways and means chairman.

Parents were urged to cooperate in a proposed new traffic plan for the school area, which will be put into practice during the next month. Mrs. Dorothy Baker gave details of the plan and asked parents to aid in implementing the rules.

Mrs. Joan Houston volunteered to take charge of a new "Block Mothers" program at Wilson School. Additional information about the student protection service may be secured by parents from school officials.

Dinner Honors Store Manager

Joseph Petrait, a former manager of Kroger Grocery Store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center for ten years, was guest of honor at a retirement dinner party given at Charlie's Restaurant.

More than 70 guests attended, including Kroger Co. officials and employees and other friends.

For the past few years, Petrait has served as manager of a Kroger store, located at 5401 Collinsville. He has been with the food chain for 40 years.

At ceremonies preceding the dinner, the honoree was presented with a cash gift, a barometer and fishing equipment.

Petrait and his wife, Elvora, reside at 2857 Waterman Ave.

Drug Abuse Program Keys Meeting

Gerald Brown, Central Junior High School principal, discussed "The Drug Problem of Today" and Patrolman Roy Koberna of the Granite City Police Department described the "Officer Friendly" program in local schools at the February meeting of the Maryville Parent-Teacher Association.

An informative question and answer period relating to both topics followed their talks.

Mrs. Pat Abbott, PTA president, was in charge of the business session. She informed parents that photographs of pupils will be taken Tuesday and Wednesday at Maryville School.

Plans for a "Book Fair and Cake Sale" were announced by Mrs. Abbott, who said the events will take place March 31 at both Nameoki Village and Bellemore Village shopping centers. Books are being sought from donors to aid the fund-raising project and may be deposited at the school, she added.

Future Brides Wear Sparkling Engagement Rings as Wedding Plans Are Disclosed

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

MRS. GEORGE S. RICHTER, the former Miss Beth Ann Ashby, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Ashby of Bethalto, formerly of Madison. She was married at the First Baptist Church in Bethalto.

Miss Beth Ann Ashby and George Richter Are Wed

The wedding of Miss Beth Ann Ashby, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Ashby of Bethalto, formerly of Madison, and George Stephen Richter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Richter of West Paducah, Ky., was solemnized at 7 p.m. Feb. 17 at the First Baptist Church in Bethalto.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Keith Stanford.

For her wedding day, the bride chose to wear a gown of cascading ruffles of scalloped Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured matching ruffled lace around the neckline and long tapered sleeves, terminating at the wrist with a wide lace ruffle. The skirt swept into a cathedral-length train. Her veil of bridal illusion, trimmed with a border of scalloped Chantilly lace, was secured with a satin and lace bow. She held a bouquet of red and white roses.

Attending the bride were Miss Belinda Reeder, maid of honor and Miss Rhonda Richter, bridesmaid.

They wore identical dresses fashioned of royal blue doekin, complemented with crocheted picture hats.

The groom chose John Griffin as his best man and Mike Huff as groomsman. Tom Martin and Don Ashby, a brother of the bride, served as ushers. Both the bride and groom are graduates of Civic Memorial High School in Bethalto. Mr. Richter is employed at the Bell Telephone Co. in Paducah, Ky., where the newly married couple is residing.

Deborah Scaturro New Stewardess

Airline Assigns Miss Scaturro

Miss Deborah Marie Scaturro, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Scaturro, 49 Riviera Drive, has graduated from Eastern Airlines' flight attendant training center in Miami, Fla., and has started her career as a stewardess.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the new airline stewardess also attended John Robert Flowers School.

Miss Scaturro will be based in San Juan, Puerto Rico. From there she will fly to many of more than 100 cities Eastern Airlines serves in 30 states, plus the District of Columbia, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Bermuda, Jamaica, the Bahamas and the Virgin Islands.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT W. SMITH. They were married in an early afternoon ceremony at St. Joseph Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Frances Marie Brunch, a daughter of Joseph Brunch, 1437 Grand Ave.

Frances Brunch Becomes Mrs. Robert W. Smith

Arrangements of pink carnations, purple seafoam statice and greenery decorated the sanctuary of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church for the wedding of Miss Frances Marie Brunch and Robert Wayne Smith.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 1 o'clock in the afternoon was the Rev. Virgil Munk.

The bride is a daughter of Joseph Brunch, 1437 Grand Ave. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, 2020 Shen St., Madison.

Mrs. Clea Judd presided at the organ, furnishing a program of wedding selections.

Mr. Brunch escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She selected an Empire style gown created in chiffon, a niece of the groom.

They wore identical dresses designed in an old fashioned style with white Nottingham English lace bodices, featuring a high neckline and fitted sleeves.

The skirts were fashioned of purple taffeta, terminating in a ruffled flounce at the hem. A pleated cummerbund defined the natural waistline and each attendant wore a purple picture hat.

Their colonial bouquet consisted of pink carnations and purple seafoam statice, encircled with greenery and purple satin streamers.

Eden Diane Brominski, a cousin of the bride, was dressed in a purple frock similar in style to the adult attendants' gowns. She wore a purple bow in her hair and carried a white basket filled with matching flowers.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Billy Joe Smith, as his best man. Donnie Richmond, John Cass, Thomas Olsem, John Greco, Thomas Taylor and Harold White completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers. Joseph Brunch, a brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception given at Croatian Hall in Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, parents of the groom, were hosts at a rehearsal dinner party at their home.

Women of Moose Attend Rally Day

Women of the Moose Chapter 247 attended "Chapter Rally Day" this week at Centralia, Ill. A total of 148 women, representing Granite City, Belleville, Cahokia, Collinsville, East St. Louis, Macoupin, Mount Vernon and Salem chapters, took part in the event.

Luncheon was served by the host chapter at tables decorated in the chapters' 1973 theme — "Be A Doll." Among those attending were 25 members of the College of Agents.

At the meeting plans were announced for next year's "Rally Day," scheduled to take place in Collinsville.

Local Women of the Moose members participating in the program were Mesdames Mildred Votoupal, Shirley Green, Sara Gusewelle, Karen Anders, Valma Finney, Margaret Wilson, Jean Teller, Elizabeth Hanlon, Dorothy Coy, Virginia Sever, Frances Westbrook, Ruth Stover, Cathy Simms, Pearl Griffin, Ernest VonKida, Nancy Groff, Rose Summer, Edna Miller, Marian Lipscomb, Irene Kosma and Sandy Meloy.

Extension Unit Meetings Set

Lessons on decorating walls and food additives and preservatives will be given at Homemakers Extension units. Extension advisers and local leaders will be the discussion leaders.

Programs also will feature a citizenship quiz prepared by Mrs. H. H. Meyenburg of Alton.

Forthcoming meetings include Friday, New Douglas, 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. George Lake, New Douglas; Tuesday, March 6, 7 p.m. at Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave., Granite City; Wednesday, March 7, 7 p.m. at Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., Granite City; and Thursday, March 8, 7 p.m. at St. Paul's Methodist Church, Airline Drive, East Alton.

Symphonic Band To Play Sunday

The Symphonic Band of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, conducted by C. J. Fierstad, will give a concert Sunday (March 4) at 3:30 p.m. in the Communications Building theatre. Admission is free.

The program will include the "Washington Post March" by John Sousa, "Johann Pachelbel's" "Gloria" by Ingolf Dahl, "Scherzo Alla Marcia" for wind instruments from the second movement of Vaughan Williams' "Symphony No. 8," "Sounds of Simon and Garfunkel" by Paul Simon and "La Fiesta Mexicana" by H. Owen Ratt.

Theta Iota Aids Vietnam Orphans

The Rev. Harold Paul, pastor of St. John United Church of Christ in Fairview Heights, spoke about an organization known as "Friends of Children in Vietnam" at a meeting of Theta Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The minister outlined various needs of orphans in Vietnam, stating the most urgently sought articles are diapers, infant clothing and formulae.

Mrs. Carolyn Goodwin, chapter service chairman, offered to collect any items donated by local clubs or individual residents, delivering them to the Rev. Paul. The pastor said he will forward the articles to overseas orphanages.

The meeting was held in the home of Miss Iva Humphrey, 18 Wilson Park Drive.

GC Artist Sells Oil Painting

Mrs. Clea Whitaker, 2228 Orville Ave., learned today that an oil pastel portrait she exhibited at a New York art show the first week of February has been sold. The painting was a character study of a woman.

The artist said she plans to become a member of the Audubon Artist Guild Inc., an international group, this fall. Presently, she is a member of the Gateway East Guild of Collinsville and the Society of Independent Artists of St. Louis.

Two of Mrs. Whitaker's most impressive paintings — one of the late President John F. Kennedy and the other of his brother, the late Robert Kennedy — were acquired for display on the aircraft carrier USS John F. Kennedy, she reported.

The prospective bridegroom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Baumberger, 2418 Woodlawn Ave., is a 1970 graduate of Granite City High School. He is attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and also is employed at Farm

MRS. GARY JASCUR, whose wedding took place at Bethel Temple Pentecostal Church, 24th and Kate Streets. She is the former Miss Reba Murphy, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Murphy, 2406 Pontoon Road.

Jascur-Murphy Nuptials At Bethel Temple Church

Miss Reba Murphy and Gary Jascur were united in marriage Feb. 17 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon at Bethel Temple Pentecostal Church, 24th and Kate streets with the Rev. Ralph McKinney officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Murphy, 2406 Pontoon Road. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Jascur, reside in Staunton, Ill.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Murphy wore a bridal gown of peau de soie over taffeta designed with a fitted bodice. Wide bands of delicate Chantilly lace extended from the shoulder to hemline and decorative bands of matching lace centered the cathedral-length train and bordered the edges.

Chantilly lace also formed the small stand-up collar and a wide band of lace above the elbow and at the wrist created a renaissance effect in the long sheer sleeves.

A forward headpiece of lace petals and pearl teardrops held in place a shoulder-length veil of bridal illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Guests were received by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Opel in Worden, Ill., following the ceremony.

The former Miss Murphy is a graduate of Worden High School and her husband was graduated from Staunton High School in 1969. After a wedding trip, they will reside in Livingston, Ill.

Portell Files Suit

Over Telephone Change

Willard W. Portell, Madison County circuit clerk, has filed suit to stop Illinois Bell Telephone Co. from changing the phone system in his office to a central switchboard.

The change was ordered for the courthouse by the County Board's building committee to cut monthly phone charges. Portell complained that timing was poor as new phone books will not be published for six months and persons would have difficulty in obtaining new numbers.

Ten Quad-City Residents Among 15 Granite City Steel Co. Retirees

Ten of 15 February retirees from Granite City Steel Co. were Quad-City residents.

In point of continuous service, the list was headed by Howard Gunderson of Collinsville with 36½ years, while Mrs. Elsie Hawk of Granite City was next with 33 years.

In addition to Mrs. Hawk, 3131 Princeton Drive, whose husband, Barney, also is retired from Granite City Steel, the other Quad-Cityans are:

Adrian "Bob" Tosh, 2158 Woodlawn Ave.; Orman "Red" Dortch, 2808 Warren Ave.; Fred Ray, 2426 Madison Ave.; Andrew Mack, 4028 Rode Ave.; Tom Schuman, Mitchell; Vic McKurtis, 2270 Shirlene Dr.; George Graf, 1717 Bremen Ave.; Wayne "Red" Young, 637 Barclay St.; and William Niesciur Sr., 1421 Iowa St.

Retirees from other areas, in addition to Gunderson, included Roger Harrison of Greenville, Jim White of Collinsville, Melvin Anderson of East St. Louis and Tom Phillips of Edwardsville.

Mrs. Hawk retired as food service supervisor in the Industrial Relations department, heading up the two salaried cafeterias. She started as dining room attendant in March 1940 and became supervisor in 1947. The Hawks have one son, Francis, who is a GCS electrical foreman, and one grandchild.

Tosh had 23 years of service with the company, starting in the Blast Furnace transportation department. He retired as pipefitter helper in the pipe shop. Tosh and his wife, Rachel, have no special retirement plans, except for some traveling.

Dortch retired on disability as North Plant Black Warehouse foreman after 27 years with Granite City Steel. He and his wife, Martha, have two sons.

Ray, a Paint Shop painter, had more than 29 years of service. He started in the Cold Strip in November 1943. Ray and his wife Christine have three sons, three daughters, seven grandchildren. A brother, Ellis is also a GCS retiree.

Mack retired on disability as Yard Maintenance tractor operator after 25 years service with the company, starting in Yard Maintenance in February 1947. He and his wife, Earline, have two sons.

Schuman, who had 21½ years with Granite City Steel, spent his entire career in the Blast Furnace Yard Labor department. A widower, he has two daughters, a son, and six grandchildren. He plans to raise cattle on his farm.

McKurtis was a Cold Strip millwright leader, retiring after almost 26 years with GCS, all in that department. Plans for McKurtis and his wife, Mildred, depend on his health.

Graf also a disability retiree, had nearly 24 years of service, starting at the North Plant in 1949 and later becoming a Machine Shop machinist. He and his wife, Barbara, have a son and two daughters.

Young retired as North Plant chainman after more than 27 years with GCS. He started at the North Plant in the Galvanize Warehouse in October 1945. He and his wife, Avolane, have no special plans.

Niesciur, who was a blacksmith for the company, served Granite City Steel nearly 31 years. He and his wife, Anna, have a son, a daughter and five grandchildren. The son, Bill, is a Pipe Shop general foreman at GCS.

Harrison, third-class chemist in the Blast Furnace laboratory, had 26½ years with the company. Except for the first few months, his entire career was spent in the lab. He and his wife, Bessie, live on Route

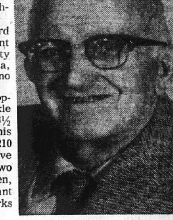

Two, Greenville, where they eventually may raise beef cattle.

White's retirement was on disability from the Machine Shop, where he was a welder for more than 16 years. He and his wife, Haline, who live at 107 Amanda, Collinsville, have three daughters and four grandchildren.

Anderson retired as North Plant utilityman after more than 24 years with GCS. He started as Block F burner in November 1948. He and his wife, Evelyn, live at 787 N. 38th Street, East St. Louis.

They have a son, three daughters and eight grandchildren. Phillips, who was in Yard Maintenance as a laborer, spent 21½ years with Granite City Steel. He and his wife, Anna, have one daughter and no special retirement plans.

Gunderson was assistant operator on the Cold Strip pickle line when he retired after 36½ years of service. (He and his wife, Lorna, who live at 1210 Portland St., Collinsville, have a daughter, a son and two grandchildren. The son, Loren, works at the GCS North Plant and a brother, Harold, works in the Slab Yard.)

Key State Employees Told to Disclose Income, Net Worth

Gov. Dan Walker on Monday issued an executive order requiring public disclosure of income, net worth (assets and liabilities) and pertinent portions of federal and state income tax returns by key personnel in the executive branch of government.

Members of boards and commissions also will have to file such statements.

All statements will be reviewed and, where appropriate, investigated by a Board of Ethics headed by former U. S. Rep. Abner J. Mikva. Two other members will be appointed later.

The statements of members of boards and commissions will remain confidential. The statements of key employees will be public.

In discussing his executive order, Gov. Walker said: "I believe this to be the most comprehensive public disclosure required in any state. The order will affect more personnel, will require a greater amount of detail, will require disclosure of major economic interests, and will require a listing of gifts received."

"In addition, the information will be readily available to responsible members of the public."

"I would hope that the information will be used in a responsible manner—not simply as a device to say this person is wealthy and this one is not."

The statements will be filed with the board on or before April 30 of each year, except for 1973, when the board is allowing an extra month for start-up time.

The order affects those in the executive branch of government (excluding those employed by other elected state officials):

1. Each person appointed by the governor.
2. Each employee earning $20,000 or more per year.
3. Each person, regardless of income, whose position is subject to "undue influence" as determined from time to time by rule of the board.

Those filing the statement of economic interest are to disclose:

1. A current statement of net worth, disclosing all assets and liabilities.
2. A statement of income (including capital gains) which will include each source of income, the total amounts received from the source and the nature of the transactions—such as personal services, sales of property and fees.
3. A statement of gifts received, including all gifts from any source having business with, or regulated by the agency of the person, and all gifts of a value of $50 or more from sources other than members of the person's family.

The statement of economic interest is to be backed up by pertinent sections of the individual's state and federal income tax return.

4. A statement of close economic associations with business or professional entities, indicating any such entity which does substantial business with the state and any such professional entity (such as a law firm) which earns substantial fees from matters involving the state.

The statement of economic interest of any person—other than one appointed from the public to serve on boards or commissions—will be open to "reasonable public inspection."

The board will provide by rule for the time, place and manner of inspection. Subject to rule of the board, the statement will also cover the spouse and immediate family living with the person making the statement.

Failure to comply, making false or misleading statements or an omission, and failure to cooperate with the board will be grounds for disciplinary action, including discharge, Gov. Walker said.

The board will review the documents and receive information from the public.

The board is also authorized to conduct investigations and is to report to the governor upon finding an apparent conflict of interest or other impropriety. It may recommend remedial action.

The ethics board will determine whether any employee is in a conflict and so advise the governor.

"I believe this to be one of the most important steps we can take toward restoring public confidence in the honesty and integrity of their government," he commented.

"Public confidence in government has been shaken. We in government must recognize that."

"There is a valid argument about the right of privacy. I respect that argument. But I am convinced it is outweighed by the need to restore confidence through affirmative action such as this executive order."

Drug, Weapon Charges Filed Against GC Man

Michael D. Foster, 20, of 2737 Iowa St., was arrested in the rear lot at a drive-in restaurant at 3330 Nameoki Road during the weekend and was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis and unlawful use of a weapon.

Foster was searched and police allegedly found on his person a spring-loaded knife.

STRIKES PARKED CAR

An auto belonging to Carol McConnell, 3235 Edgewood Ave., parked in an alley between Washington Avenue and Iowa Street during the weekend was struck on the right side by a vehicle which left the scene.

Arsonist Burns Home On Third Attempt

Arson is suspected in three attempts, the last one successful, to burn the home of Percy Wade, 1117 Logan St., Venice, this week.

The first incident was Sunday night when a pile of clothes by the east side door of the home was set ablaze. The family extinguished the fire without assistance.

At 9:45 p.m. Monday, a shed behind the home was set on fire. The family extinguished the flames before Venice firemen arrived on the scene. A five gallon can was taken by police from the scene for investigation.

At 8:25 a.m. Tuesday, a man was seen by neighbors coming from the rear of the house and moments later fire inside was discovered. The flames gutted most of the interior, causing about $3,500 damage. Venice firemen were on the scene 30 minutes.

GC Youth Arrested On Weapon Charge

Steve L. Schaeffer, 17, of 2309 Wilson Ave., was arrested at a residence in the 2900 block of Bux Avenue during the weekend and was charged with disorderly conduct and unlawful use of a weapon.

Police said they responded to a report of someone breaking into a house and found Schaeffer eating a piece of chicken when they arrived.

He told officers he had come to the residence "to see a friend."

A weapon allegedly was found in his pocket. While he was being handcuffed, police said, the youth flinched.

He was taken to a hospital emergency room where he was restrained. The youth was treated for trauma to the right side of the face and underwent x-rays before being released to police custody.

What Next? -- Girl 'Car Bumpers' Are Moving Into the Auto Body Business

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Girls seem to keep appearing in the strangest places these days.

First came lady bus drivers, then "final touch" girls at a local carwash and now the area has female "car bumpers."

What, you say? Car bumpers—auto body repair persons.

"It's fun, it helps keep us slim and I think every woman should try it," bouncy, 26-year-old Roxie Houston told a reporter.

"After working here, I couldn't just sit home anymore," Doris Payne, also 26, agreed.

The girls work for and with their husbands, Gene Payne, Rural Route One, and Billy Houston, 11 Victoria Drive, Pontiac Beach, owners of G & B Auto Body and Reconditioning, 1302 Edwardsville Road.

"There's not anything we could tell them to do to repair a car they couldn't do," Gene commented. He explained the girls are proficient at car painting, sanding, plastic filling, masking and cleaning.

Doris is the veteran of the two, having worked about five years in repair shops. Roxie has been in the shop about nine months, but formerly was of ice keeper and a helper at her husband's shop in Pontiac, Mich.

Their husbands are cousins and together ran a shop in Pontiac before moving here because of weather.

They came to Granite City because Roxie's mother lived here and she grew up here.

"We weren't afraid to drop our business up there and move because it doesn't matter where you go, if you are good at your work, you can set up a body shop and make it go," Gene said.

The shop is just starting to "go," after being here 10 months, he explained. Now the four do repair work for Hohl

Ford Motor Co., Cassens & Sons in Edwardsville, R. & J. used car lot, J&M Motors, the Collinsville and Edwardsville Volkswagen dealers and others.

Asked why she decided to work in the shop in Pontiac, Doris said, "Gene was making about $75 per week and we needed the money. His boss thought I could do it too."

"When they tell you to do something, you just do it."

She admitted, "I didn't like the idea of it. I liked to be a housewife and be with my daughter, but now I couldn't sit at home all day."

Roxie chimed in, "It's fun being around here. If I didn't work here, I'd still come here about once a day for an hour or so to talk. I feel like I'm accomplishing something here."

Are they advocates of women's liberation? "I don't think so, but I do think women who do the same work as men should get the same pay," Roxie answered. "My hands look terrible. They will never be the same."

"I used to have long fingernails. Now I'm developing strong muscles. There should be some compensation for that," she commented.

Doris added that in the shop, all profits are put in an account and they all draw equally from the deposits.

Roxie is the mother of a 10-year-old daughter and Doris has two boys, ages 6 and 8.

"The job does have one drawback," Roxie explained. "When you go out somewhere to pick up something, like lunch, the people look at you all covered with paint and dust and filthy, and think, 'You don't you go home and clean up.' They don't know that you work in a body shop and probably wouldn't believe it if you told them."

"I'm going to have G & B Auto Body embroiled on all my work shirts so everyone will know," she added.

Man, 36, Fights Three Charges After Flight

Efrain Bonilla, 36, of 2216 Washington Ave., was charged with unlawful use of a firearm, disorderly conduct and having no firearm owner's identification card during the weekend following his arrest in the 2200 block of Washington Avenue.

Patrolling officers saw two men fighting at the scene and interceded, a report stated. A .25-caliber automatic found in Bonilla's jacket pocket, allegedly had been displayed earlier in an altercation stemming from an argument between Bonilla and an older man.

HOUSE IS RANSACKED

Nothing appeared to be missing at the residence of Denise Avants, 2809 Emme St., where a break-in occurred during the weekend. The house had been ransacked by the intruders, who entered the premises through a side door.

BURGLARS KICK IN DOOR

Burglars kicked in a rear door and ransacked the home of William Willis, 2721 Buxton Ave., it was reported to police during the weekend. Those responsible drank beer taken from a refrigerator and stole between $2 and $3 in change.

GARAGE, HOME ENTERED

George Billick, 604 Jefferson Ave., Venice, reported to police during the weekend that thieves broke into his home and garage. The lock on the garage and a rear window in the house were broken. A shovel and a rake were stolen.

WIN Office Opening Delayed Until April

The official opening of a new Work Incentive Program (WIN) office in the Granite City Labor Temple, 204 State St., has been delayed another month, Charles Dunn, manager of WIN for Madison County, said Tuesday.

The office remodeling was completed in mid-January but red tape delayed federal and state authorizations for telephone and other necessities several months. In January, Dunn reported he planned to open the office in March but the announcement this week delays the opening at least another month.

Telephones and other necessities now are being installed and a few workers are using the office, but the main move from the WIN office at 1929 Edison Ave. is being delayed.

When the new office is occupied, about 10 more employees can be added to the WIN staff. Four persons will conduct testing and orientation programs for WIN applicants at the Edison Avenue office while about 38 persons, including two public aid workers, will conduct operations from the Labor Temple office, Dunn explained.

MAN HIT BY CAR

Sieve Nemeth, 63, of 1636 Sycamore Ave., was injured when he was struck by an auto driven by James Q. Lahey, 712 Twenty-sixth St., at 6:35 p.m. Monday on the sidewalk at the entrance to the parking lot at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Lahey said he was blinded by lights of an oncoming vehicle. Nemeth was treated at the hospital emergency room for pains to the left knee and was released following x-rays.

BODY SHOP WORKERS. Roxie Houston, right, and Doris Payne, center, have found a profession which they recommend other women try—working in an auto body shop. They are employed by their husbands, Gene Payne, left, and Billy Houston at G & B Auto Body and Reconditioning, 1302 Edwardsville Road. There's not anything we could tell them to do to repair a car they couldn't do, Payne commented.

Mrs. Pauline Schroeder Dies Here at Age 93

Mrs. Pauline C. (Wolff) Schroeder, 93, of 5 South Bond St. Altamont, Ill., formerly of Granite City, died at 2:35 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

She had been in ill health for three months and a patient in the hospital eight days.

Mrs. Schroeder was born in Oakville, Ill., and moved to Granite City in 1901. She had lived in Altamont for the past six months.

Her husband, Charles Schroeder, died in 1933.

Survivors include a son, E. Marshall Schroeder Sr. of Granite City; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Slingerland of Altamont and Mrs. Ruth Mann of Granite City; one sister, Mrs. Fred (Louise) Schwankhaus of Oakville; eight grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by two daughters, Miss Marguerite Schroeder in 1909 and Mrs. Marian Knecht in 1969.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning. Details are given in the obituary column.

Easily Welded, Long Lasting Galvanized Steel Developed

Pittsburgh — Welding productivity close to that of cold-rolled steel, plus the corrosion protection of hot-dipped galvanized steel at savings of up to $8 per ton, are the dimensions of an improved galvanized product National Steel Corp. is promoting to the automotive industry and its parts suppliers.

The product, trademarked "Weirko Jet-Weld," can be ordered now in tonnage quantities for 1974 model autos. Its greatest utility is expected to be in unexposed underbody parts.

"Performance trials have been promising," said George A. Stinson, chairman and president of National Steel, whose Weirton and Midwest Division supply the product. The Granite City Steel and Midwest operations are closely related.

"While 'Jet-Weld' has numerous specific automotive applications, it will be helpful also to many consumer products which require not only strength and corrosion resistance but, of equal importance, also demand superior adaptability to high-volume, repetitive manufacturing processes," Stinson noted.

"Jet-Weld" is a differentially coated product; that is, one whose hot-dipped zinc coating is considerably heavier on one side than on the other.

The .45-ounce per square foot zinc coating on one side furnishes long-term corrosion protection. The .10-ounce typical per square foot zinc coating on the opposite side enables parts made of "Jet-Weld" to be welded at high production rates without undue zinc fouling of the automatic spot-welding machines which are common on automotive and comparable mass-production lines.

Differentially coated, hot-dipped galvanized steels have been available for some years. "Jet-Weld," thus, is an improved rather than a "new" product. It offers a tightly bonded zinc coating which is lighter on one side than the lightest hot-dipped galvanized coatings in standard commercial use today, Stinson explained.

It was developed by National Steel in close cooperation with an automotive producer who wanted a "light-side" zinc coating no thicker than .10-ounces per square foot.

With the mechanical zinc removal devices which have been used since differential galvanized was introduced, this is a tough tolerance to hold routinely. But with the adaptation of National Steel's patented "Jet Process" for controlling hot-dip galvanized finishes, that "light-side" requirement is considered realistic.

Differentially coated galvanized steels are adaptable to many applications. The most useful thus far, however, center on automotive underbody parts.

Typically, such a part is designed so that the heavier zinc coating is on the unexposed, inside surface where it furnishes life-of-the-vehicle resistance to moisture and road dirt that penetrate to such hard-to-protect surfaces.

Conversely, the "light-side" coating makes "Jet-Weld" almost the equivalent of cold-rolled steel in terms of welding. Also, strong, flash-free welds can be obtained using flat electrode, Stinson concluded.

Woman Victim of Beating, Burglary

Monday night was a blue one for Mrs. Shirley Carlton, 2228 Bryan Ave.

At 5 p.m. she reported to police that meat in her freezer and refrigerator and four loaves of bread valued at $14 were stolen in a burglary.

At 12:25 a.m. she reported that a man entered her home, started an argument and struck her several times. She was advised to see the state's attorney and file a complaint.

At 1:40 a.m. she reported that a .38 caliber revolver with a pearl handle was stolen from a closet of her home after Feb. 13.

15 Persons Attend Title I School Tour

Fifteen persons attended a Title I open house for the Parent Advisory Council which started at the pre-school center at Logan School.

Present were Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent, nine parents, two principals from Title I schools, two visitors from East St. Louis and Ered R. Wakeland, assistant superintendent of the Madison County Educational Service Region.

Mrs. Ruth D. Lahr, director of the Title I program, led the tour of the pre-school center. The parents then visited the other six elementary schools in the district's remedial reading program.

The objective of the Title I program is to identify pupils with reading and learning difficulties in the very early school years and assist them in experiencing success, avoiding future academic frustration, failure and possible dropout before high school graduation.

The philosophy of personnel in the program is to assume that any student could qualify for the program as long as the student has not been tested and classified as a special education student.

Illegal Transportation Of Liquor Charged

Two St. Louis men were charged with illegal transportation of liquor and their juvenile companion, 16, also from St. Louis, was charged with curfew violation during the weekend when police arrested the trio in an auto at Niedringhaus Avenue and State Street.

Based on the liquor transportation charges were John I. Stringmeyer, 19, and R. A. Hammett, 21, both of St. Louis, Madison.

Beckovich, traveling south on Madison Avenue and attempting to turn left, was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way.

HITS TRAFFIC SIGNAL

An auto driven by Christie L. Evans, 2127 Lincoln Ave., knocked down a traffic signal, breaking it at the base, at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue this week.

Copley News Service

Springfield—The who, what and where of Illinois outdoor resources have been neatly brought together in a multi-color pamphlet issued by the division of education in the state department of conservation.

have to read halfway down the column.

Separate blue marks are used for historic landmarks, with a total of 24 scattered through the state, while the 24 conservation areas are marked in gold. Four state forests are marked in gray.

Each classification also shows whether or not various activities or services are available, including camping; electricity; cabins, hotel or lodge; picnicking; refreshments; drinking water, toilets, hiking, swimming, boating, fishing, hunting, sanitary station, summer interpretive program, or a year-round interpretive program.

Identification of camping facilities is shown down even more—to show whether the camping available is class A, costing $3 a night and offering showers, flush toilets and sanitary disposal stations, or B, for $2 a night with only vehicular access, or C, which costs $1 a night and is for tent campers who will walk into primitive sites since there is no vehicular access.

A goodly amount of information about Illinois' recreational historical or conservation areas also is included. There is a history of the state's park program, along with characteristics of each of the types of property and services available.

Regulations are listed on the back, including requirements adopted in recent years that require advance registration for groups of 25 or more visitors to state park or conservation area, and that groups of minors must have at least one responsible adult accompany them. The group, for each 15 youngsters.

Additional information, or copies of the pamphlet, can be obtained from the division of education in the state conservation department, located in the state office building in Springfield.

Mobile Home Looted, Ransacked in Burglary

The mobile home of Dennis Adams, 2829 E. 25th St., was looted and ransacked in a burglary during the weekend while the occupants were out of town. It was reported Monday. Entry was gained through a bedroom window.

Items taken included a $180 tape recorder, a $250 stereo amplifier, a $120 turntable, a $50 eight-track stereo, a $250 slide projector, a $200 movie camera, a $170 15-inch television, two clock radios, an oscilloscope and an optical microscope valued at $250, a makeup mirror valued at $30 and a camera valued at $100.

Alcohol, Drug Charges Are Filed Against Man

Dennis L. Dickens, 37, of 3715 Nameoki Road, was arrested while allegedly hiding under a porch in the 1900 block of Benton St.

He was charged with illegal possession of cannabis and illegal possession of alcohol. He pleaded guilty to the alcohol charge and was fined $25 and costs, and entered a guilty plea on the drug charge.

He was taken to the Madison County Jail in lieu of $3,000 bond after he was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for rib pains.

Police reported they saw an auto containing two persons headed south on Adams Street and followed it into an alley and a back yard, where the two jumped out and ran. Officers said they found 4 1/2 ounces, or about 128 grams, of cannabis in the car.

TRAIN BLOCKS CROSSING

A Norfolk & Western Railroad train blocked the 22nd Street crossing from 2:47 to 3:30 a.m. Tuesday, it was reported by police who filed a complaint.

Police Board Commends Officers in Capture

A special commendation of the Granite City Police Department for its work in capturing an armed fugitive here Feb. 19 after he held three hostages for 4 1/2 hours was presented to the City Council Monday night by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

The letter, signed by Ralph Elliott, Henry Sheppard and Warren L. Decatur of the fire and police board, was filed and a copy posted on the bulletin board at police headquarters.

The letter said:

The Board of Fire and Police Commissioners commend you, Assistant Chief George Telford and all of your officers on duty and off duty that brought the incident at 23rd Street and Lee Avenue to a successful conclusion.

Anytime, our Police Department can conclude a problem of this nature with no harm to your men, hostages, or the public, the effort has been highly successful; no matter how long it takes.

One of the commissioners was at the site approximately three hours, mingled with the crowd and listened to various comments made in public. With our exception, the public has a high respect and regard for our Officers.

Some of these people thought the police should have entered sooner or shot tear gas into the apartment. The commissioner could only tell them that he did not have all the facts and that the chief and his men were able to evaluate the conditions and would do the job properly.

Now, everyone is aware that the male hostage had a diabetic attack and tear gas could have been fatal. It is also now known by the public that the subject was armed with an automatic pistol and a revolver and threatened to kill the hostages if the police entered.

These facts together with others we will not reveal in this letter were known to us and not known by the public.

Some things do distress us as commissioners, namely, bullet-proof vests had to be procured from the state police and rifles were procured from the Madison County Police Department. We hope that items of this nature shown in your recent budget

Animal Collection Donated to SIUE

The anthropology department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has received 40 stuffed animals and several animal and human bones from the estate of the late Wayne Richardson of Granite City.

According to Bill Burk, Granite City taxidermist, the stuffed animals are valued at more than $1,300.

The bones are from the Snyder site in the Illinois River Valley and date back to 200 A.D. SIUE anthropologist Sidney Denny said.

"This gift will be great for museum display and for classroom use. Most of the animals will go on loan to the zoology department. This kind of gift is needed by universities," Denny said.

The gift to the University was made through the SIU Foundation by Frank Richardson, executor of his late brother's estate.

COLLECTION DONATED

SIUE anthropologist Sidney Denny, right, holds a domestic dog from the collection of the late Wayne Richardson of Granite City. Looking on are Bud Worthen, Granite City auctioneer, and Frank Richardson, executor of the estate of his late brother, also from Granite City.

TAPE PLAYER STOLEN

A tape deck player, valued at $50, and four tapes, worth $30, were stolen from an auto owned by Pat Bryarly, 2323 Adams St., parked near Granite City High School, the owner reported during the week-end. A front vent window was removed on the car to gain entry.

POSSESSION CHARGED

Jerry McCabe, Springfield, Mo., was arrested this week by Ponton Beach Police on a warrant issued by the Madison County Sheriff's department charging him with multiple possession of a controlled substance.

Use of Dental Technique Urged in Street Repairs

An inspection of all Venice city streets by Mayor John E. Lee and Street Superintendent Jay Maurer has been proposed by Mayor Lee to City Council members as the first step in a repair program "in which we might well apply some of the techniques of dentistry in making repairs last longer."

Mayor Lee, a dentist, told the aldermen that the same methods of filling a tooth cavity, if used in filling holes in the streets, should make the street repairs more substantial.

The council approved a payment of $722 as a matching grant for participation in the Madison County Emergency Employment program in which the city is employing three workers.

Chief of Police Ralph Brawley reported a total of 19 adult and eight juvenile arrests during January. He said the city received $303 in fines in disposition of the cases in the courts.

Adult arrests included six on city ordinance violations, seven on traffic violations, five state violations, eight for state traffic violations, one on state felony charges and one for investigation.

Juvenile arrests included one traffic, one city ordinance, two for investigation who were released to parents, three arrest-

Four Youths Arrested In Burglary of Home

Four persons, including three juveniles, were arrested in connection with a burglary at the home of James R. Bowers, 2564 Cleveland Blvd., after a neighbor reported that someone was in the house.

Taken into custody later at his home was Darrell Hofstot, 18, of 2223 Delmar Ave., on a burglary charge. The juveniles, found standing on the corner, were 14 to 15 and 16, police said during the weekend.

After officers arrived, they heard glass breaking at the front of the home. Two persons were seen running down the front steps and around shrubs to the rear of the house.

They continued running after police fired three warning shots in the air. Blood was found on door glass at the home.

The house was extensively ransacked. Entry had been gained by removing a basement window.

One of the boys' showed police where some of the loot was located, and officers recovered a plastic bag containing coins, a watch, camera and film. The juveniles were turned over to their parents.

BITTEN BY SQUIRREL

Larry Ray Williamson, 6, of 210 Abbott St., Venice, received a squirrel bite on the back of his head Sunday. He received medical treatment.

Southwest Cerebral Palsy Affiliate Elects Michel

United Cerebral Palsy of Illinois has completed the organization of a Southwestern Area Affiliate covering the seven counties of Madison, St. Clair, Monroe, Randolph, Clinton, Bond and Washington.

Norman Rawson, Belleville, was elected president and Anthony E. Michel, Granite City, vice-president at a board meeting held at the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank building.

The new affiliate, an outgrowth of the former Tri-County UCP based in Granite City, will be primarily responsible for sponsoring a mobile team which has been hired to work in the seven-county area.

United Cerebral Palsy of Illinois has five mobile teams across the state, each comprised of two professional full-time staff members and backed up by medical and therapy consultants.

The Southwest Mobile Team has office headquarters in the Murphy Building, East St. Louis.

Mobile team members are Teresa McAllister, educator, and Evelyn Wooden, aide.

Other officers of UCP of Southwest are: Elbert Bolsen, Belleville, secretary, and John L. McDonald, Granite City, treasurer.

Elected as members of the state board of the UCP were Mrs. Gloria Simms, Madison, Mary Edmondson, Alton, Dan McGee, Venice, and the officers.

3 Drivers Injured In 3-Car Accident

Three drivers were injured in a three-car accident on 23rd Street at Madison Avenue during the weekend.

Injured were Lloyd Watts, 55, of 2308 Washington Ave., driver of a taxicab, and Thomas Lehotz Jr., 19, of 1231 Grand Ave., Madison. The driver of the third car, Sylvester A. Dulgeroff, 48, of 52 Oakland Drive, received minor injuries and did not require hospital treatment.

Watts suffered an abrasion to the top of his head and an injury to his left hip. X-rays were taken and he was treated and released. Lehotz was treated for a laceration to his lower lip which required sutures and he was released.

HOUSE BURGLARY

LeRoy Pryor reported to Venice police during the week-end that his house at 404 Weaver St. was broken into Feb. 22. A television set, a jar of pennies, a black suede sweater and a gold watch were taken.

Township Role in Pontoon Streets Involves No Profit

Nameoki Township's cooperation with the Village of Ponton Beach is being defended by Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell, who takes exception to Village Improvement Party one of 10 special registration centers here Friday, Saturday and Monday.

The discussion at a news conference "is another example of candidates running for office who do not take the time to study the job they are applying for, but resort to long-winded promises and 'foot in the mouth' statements that the public is eager to hear," Whitsell told the Press-Record.

"There are three issues that I think I must take a stand on as the supervisor of the township and a resident of the Village of Ponton Beach. "First of all, Floyd Moss made the statement, 'There is a lot of federal money around, but no one bothered to examine what is available.' For his information, we have applied for federal and state grants for sewers, parks and drainage to serve all of Nameoki Township, including Ponton Beach.

"We also employ the Southern Western Illinois Metropolitan Planning Commission to study grants for our area. "The township will also share, equally, all federal revenue sharing monies received, with the village residents as well as all other residents of the township.

"The second statement in regard to permanent roads is completely without thought and is entirely impossible. "Forty thousand dollars could only install approximately three city blocks of permanent roads, the present condition of the village streets will not permit this to be done.

"Also, the $40,000 is not appropriate entirely for road purposes and must be used for the general operation expenses of the village government.

"The third issue that prompted me to answer Floyd Moss was his statement that he will except an offer from the township to maintain the Village streets, if it is the lowest bid.

"The township has no interest in bidding on road work in the Village of Ponton Beach, or anywhere else. However, in the past, all of the village streets were under township maintenance.

"After the incorporation of the village, our tax monies that are collected from village residents must be turned over to the corporation.

"Ponton Beach has no equipment nor personnel. It is my opinion that all road monies collected should be spent on streets and roads only—and the most logical solution at this time is for the village to request that the township do the work at no profit or at no expense to the unincorporated portion of the township.

"Many other statements were made by Moss that in my opinion, were more of a political nature than fact. However, I am sure that others will take issue with them, while the time comes," the supervisor concluded.

Homemakers Benefit To Aid Dystrophy Fund

A proclamation declaring Saturday as "Smile Saturday" has been issued by Mayor Donald Partney for the Future Homemakers of America of the Granite City High School.

The homemakers group will divide into teams, each assigned to various parts of the city to solicit orders for a "Smiley-Face" candle. Proceeds will go to the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America.

The proclamation said: "Whereas, the need to sponsor research and patient service programs for children afflicted by muscular dystrophy exists; and

"Whereas, the need to conduct an annual summer muscular dystrophy camp for those children with muscular dystrophy exists; and

"Whereas, to conduct the foregoing camp and research facilities additional funds are necessary and the Future Homemakers of America, of Granite City High, have undertaken to raise these funds.

Now, therefore, let it be resolved that I, Mayor Donald Partney, do hereby designate and proclaim Saturday, March 3, 1973, as Smile Saturday in recognition of the statewide campaign that will be conducted on this day to support the aforementioned camp, research and patient service programs. It is further acknowledged that the Theme for Smile Saturday will be "Put a Smile on the Face of a Dystrophy Child."

Comments Sought on U. S. Drainage Plan

A Corps of Engineers public meeting on the Blue Waters Drainage Plan will be held Wednesday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. at Wirth Junior High School. The school is located on Missouri Lane near Cahokia.

Blue Waters is an 8,000-acre area which includes portions of Cahokia, Sauget, Alorton, Centerville, East St. Louis and unincorporated areas of St. Clair County.

There are 32,000 residents in the Blue Waters section, which has been seriously affected by inadequate drainage problems. Growth of the communities and neighborhood development has been hampered by frequent flooding, a Corps spokesman said.

The St. Louis Engineer District will present three optional alternatives aimed at solving the problem.

"These proposals are the result of intensive study by a guidance committee of local interests concerned with the water resources of the area. "The committee has expressed a preference for one of the plans, called the interior protection option," it was related.

"All three of the alternative proposals will be presented at the public meeting. All residents and interested citizens are invited to attend the session and to participate with statements and comments."

Free Glaucoma Screening in Madison Friday

A free glaucoma screening test will be available tomorrow for all adults over 18 between 1:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. in the parking lot at Schermer Brothers Market, 12th Street and Madison Avenue, Madison.

Glaucoma is a disease of the eye, marked by increased pressure within the eyeball, damage to the optic disc and gradual loss of vision.

The free testing is being sponsored by the Madison Lions Club and will be done by trained medical personnel in the Illinois Lions Club mobile glaucoma unit.

Since the roaming unit began operation in August 1969 through November 1972, a total of 138,203 persons has been screened for glaucoma, with 842 cases for glaucoma confirmed, 807 glaucoma diagnosis determined, and 215 referred for other eye problems. A total of 24,586 had vision of 20/50 or less and were told that glasses could improve their vision.

Attitudes of Teachers Effect Pupil Behavior

Attitudes and personalities of educators have a direct effect on the methods they use in controlling the behavior of their students, according to a study being conducted by A. Ray Hesel, associate professor of education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Hesel, who has completed five years of research on the subject, will present a paper entitled "Toward Definition and Measurement of Pupil Control Behavior" at the annual meeting of the American Educational Research Association Wednesday in New Orleans.

He has been assisted by Donald J. Willower, professor of education at Pennsylvania State University. The research was supported in part by a grant from the Office of Research and Projects, SIUE.

Hesel points out that the study is "concerned not only with what school personnel think and feel, but perhaps what is more important: what they do. Moreover, we were interested in the relationship between ideology and behavior."

Hesel describes educators as either "custodial" or "humanistic" in their attempts to control the behavior of students. "Custodial educators strive to maintain a high degree of order among pupils," he explains. "These educators are impersonal and aloof in their relationships with students and are stringent and unyielding in dealing with them. Threats and punitive sanctions are used as means of control. Custodial educators manifest suspicion and distrust of pupils, often addressing them in an unpleasant or angry manner. These educators react personally and judgmentally toward students who misbehave."

"Humanistic educators strive to establish a basis of mutual respect and friendship in their relationship with pupils. They are patient, congenial and easily approached by students. These educators are responsive to student suggestions and ideas and encourage pupil self-discipline and independence. They are flexible and tolerant in dealing with students and react toward misbehavior on the basis of efforts to understand it."

The study acknowledges that some educators may not be able to exercise their personal beliefs toward controlling student behavior because of school rules and the demands of the public, but generally teachers perform in the relative isolation of the classroom, out of sight of other teachers and superiors.

The study included research in 63 schools in Illinois—42 secondary and 21 elementary schools. They varied widely in size and racial mix, and they were distributed among urban, suburban and rural areas.

According to Hesel, the research is one of only a few systematic studies of school personnel and their pupil control behavior which have been completed in the United States.

British Trapeze Listed Among Best of Artists

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

It's surprising what a difference a year can make in the life of a young man. The last time I spoke to Trapeze they were just another band trying to make it big, but they that was 18 months ago.

Since that time they have severed their apron strings from the Moody Blues, changed their style, cut a new album and become one of the best bands to emerge from England in a long time.

Their third album, by far their best, on the Threshold label is called "You Are the Music. We're Just the Band." Unlike their last LP "Medusa" this one is a sensitive, well-balanced platter that shows the depth Trapeze possesses.

Glenn Hughes, lead vocalist and bass player, explained in an interview the changes that he, Mel Galley and David Holland had experienced of late. "Basically it all stems from personal changes in the group that just happened to be for the good. Plus the fact that we've done a lot of work in America now and with each gig we begin to learn something more about our music and ourselves which is making us better as a group on the whole," Glenn said.

The changes Glenn is speaking about are displayed in many different ways on the new LP and are a credit to the group's ability to capitalize on them. Their music was good a year ago, but lacked the depth and often choppy as though everyone was playing his own thing, without the continuity of a tight group.

"The music has changed because we are now a tight, very tight, group," he explained. "We're not as heavy as we used to be and we've also gone to a more funky sound with a lot more back bone to it. Now it's quiet in parts and loud in parts which leads to a much more dynamic tempo and music which lends to more audience participation."

Much of Trapeze's recent success can be attributed to the development of their black influences that are now beginning to blossom.

"Basically we've been influenced by soul or black artists from the start," he said. "But at this time last year we weren't able to play it. Now we're really into a very black type of music which we play not so much very loudly in parts and it gives us more energy."

The main difference between "Medusa" and "You Are the Music" is that the latter has more of a variety of cuts, where before everything was just plain heavy. It's also added a voice album and bound to attract a new set of fans to Trapeze.

"Right, it has more feeling and soul yet it has its rock. In fact, I've discovered it's got female songs on it. Let me explain that," he said. "I have all about our music and ourselves which is making us better as a group on the whole," Glenn said.

"We're doing it just like Humble Pie did, by word of kinds of chick coming up to me and saying, 'I really like this or that song, it really gets to me.' You know what I mean, it especially gets to the girls."

"Coast To Coast," "What Is a Woman's Role" and "Will Our Love End" have a bluesy, black touch abetted by Glenn's forceful voice which makes them really standouts not only for the chicks but for all music lovers.

"We're pleased with the album because of its variety," he said bubbling with joy. "The order of the cuts are right, there's not that up and down feeling of before, and sound-wise we think it's better and the production is great. For one thing, it's an album that most people can get into straight away, where with 'Medusa' it was a while, even though it was the first album we did properly."

As of yet, Trapeze is not a household word, but that's because they are coming up the hard way — by exposing themselves night after night in gigs around the world. "You know many of the super-hyped groups come through the front door, but they just don't last. And money can buy anything, even a place on the charts. We've never been hyped with a big monetary backing, but we are making it the hard way, so we're happy."

With the exposure that Trapeze will get on their March tour, which includes extensive dates in California and New York, they are bound to achieve another plateau of happiness and fans. Especially with "You Are the Music, We're Just the Band" leading the way.

Miss Hursey Receives Honors at McKendree

Patricia Hursey, 5 Lexington Court, has received divisional honors for outstanding work in the teacher preparation division at McKendree College in Lebanon.

Divisional honors replace the traditional dean's list under the college's modern grading system, and reflect exemplary work beyond course requirements, as judged by the divisional chairman, Miss Hursey received honors in the teacher preparation division for work in a course "Psychology as a profession" during the January term, during which she served as an intern.

Students were allowed to choose an area of work in which psychology was a necessary prerequisite to adequate training.

Miss Hursey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hursey of Granite City and is a 1971 graduate of East St. Louis High School.

Prof. Starr to Teach At Ethiopia College

Fay H. Starr, professor of psychology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will spend the next 18 months teaching at Haile Selassie University in Ethiopia.

Starr will be teaching learning and motivation measurement and conducting seminars on therapeutic uses of hypnosis for the university's medical school.

Starr's wife, an assistant professor of elementary education at SIUE, will teach instructional processes in the field of reading.

Faculty Caused Much of Unrest, Counselor Says

Student unrest which spread to college campuses through much of the U. S. during the late 1960s may have been caused by faculty members, a Southern Illinois University counselor believes.

Glenda Lawhorn, a counselor in the General Studies Division of SIUE, makes the claim in a study of academic freedom and civility published in Perspectives, a journal of general and liberal studies sponsored by Western Michigan University.

"Nothing is more dismaying than the way in which a few in the intellectual community have rejected the process of reason, succumbed to the national susceptibility for violence and indeed begun themselves to exalt violence," Miss Lawhorn wrote.

The counselor contends a great many professors do not want academic freedom for themselves or for others.

"Their only interest is in larger salaries, the security of tenure and the right to complacency."

"These professors become concerned about academic freedom only when there appears to be some threat that their monopoly of indoctrinating students with their own prejudices may be impaired; they have no respect for the student's freedom of mind nor for those of their colleagues who might differ with them," the perspective article says.

She believes faculty members and others in the intellectual community have "contributed to the atmosphere which is reinforcing the civil and hating the de-composition of the American social process."

Whatever constriction of academic freedom has come to pass because of faculty timidity cannot compare with the same faculty's rejection of the process of reason, she believes.

Miss Lawhorn says academic freedom is more than merely the right of the professor to pursue research and teaching. "It implies the obligation to promote learning," she says.

"Aside from pursuing his own learning, the professor must promote learning in an absolute sense. He must protect everything conducive to learning and fight everything detrimental to it."

"If learning is prevented by violence on the part of the professors, then those professors must be fought, if learning is prevented by violence on the part of the students, then those students must be fought," she wrote.

Protests against a university are justified only if they are provoked by the university, Miss Lawhorn believes.

"In lieu of riots and a climate of violence that lead youth into confusion, universities must begin to fulfill their ultimate mission and lead youth into clarity," she says.

Placed on Honors List

Paula Lynn Mathis, Rural Route Two, has been placed on the honors list for the fall semester at Forest Park Community College, St. Louis.

McKendree Sees Upswing in Enrollment Trends

McKendree College in Lebanon, looking ahead to next fall, sees a definite upswing in its enrollment trends, according to Vice President Raymond F. Devery.

Devery, who oversees the college admission program, said that 87 students have been admitted for next fall, compared with 47 at the same period last year. Forty-nine have made tuition deposits, compared with 36 last year.

Last fall McKendree enrolled 132 new students, raising the student body to about 400. "I see no reason why we shouldn't have an enrollment of 600 next fall," Devery said. "The college is still making a name for itself in its high standards of instruction including small classes."

The enrollment trend at McKendree runs counter to the national trend of declining enrollments, according to the report of the Vietnam war and the elimination of the draft.

SIUE On-Spot Admissions Program Aids Enrollees

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has developed a new on-the-spot admissions program in conjunction with area high schools.

The program already is in effect in 12 high schools and will be offered on a full-scale basis beginning next fall, according to Gene Magac, admissions director at SIUE.

Admissions counselors from SIUE visit schools on specified days and meet with students individually or in groups. The SIUE counselors provide credentials. After going over the records, SIUE admissions counselors can admit the student on-the-spot.

If the student has questions or a specific problem, the SIUE counselor can assist on an individual basis.

The primary interest in this new approach is to serve the student. It cuts red tape for the student and also gives the individual some personal contact on our campus," Magac said.

Symphony Orchestra To Present Concert

The University Symphony Orchestra at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, directed by Robert Schieber, will give a concert at 8:15 p.m. Friday in the Communications Building theater. Admission is free.

Five students soloists, chosen by audition, will be featured. They include Kevin Nicol of Granite City, trumpet; Ariene Richter, Brees, soprano; Tom Cole of St. Louis, tenor; Beverly Field, St. Louis, cello; and Lana Turner, East Alton, piano.

The program will include Trumpet Concerto in E-flat Major by Haydn; Quel giorno il cavaliero from Don Pasquale by Donizetti, featuring Miss Richter; Le Reve, from Manon by Massenet, featuring I Love You So from Lehár's The Merry Widow, with Miss Richter and Collins; Cello Concerto by Lalo; Rhapsody in Blue by Gershwin, with Miss Turner at the piano, and The Pines of Rome by Respighi.

Prather Students Hear Talk by Ex-Drug Abuser

About 400 Prather Junior High School students, divided into six groups, heard a talk on drug abuse by John Garrett of the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency. The program was arranged by the school's Smart-teens group.

Garrett, who said he is a former drug abuser, centered his talk around types of information which should be investigated and considered before a person decides whether to experiment with drugs.

He answered questions from the audience about drugs in general and his experience with them. He prefaced his account with a statement that he was not intentionally trying to frighten the students.

He told of friends who had taken drug overdoses and either died or suffered severe physical problems.

Garrett told the students that for five days, due to an overdose of LSD, he was unable to distinguish his hallucinations from reality. He said it was another 30 days before he stopped "tripping." He described it as an unimaginable horror.

Serves on Committee

Charles Glen Battrey, 2991 Warrman Ave., is one of 139 University of Missouri-Columbia students serving on official standing committee decisions on UMC policy decisions. He is a member of the student conduct committee.

Canada, Alaska Tour Planned For Summer

An educational tour to Canada and Alaska will be conducted by the Department of Educational Administration of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from July 11 to 31.

According to George C. Ackerrund, professor of educational administration at SIUE, the tour is open to anyone, not just school administrators.

The tour will offer sight-seeing opportunities and discussions with school administrators in Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton, Canada, and Fairbanks and Anchorage, Alaska, as well as visits to the Vancouver and Seattle areas.

Ackerrund said the tour will originate from Lamber Airport in St. Louis with pickup service at Chicago. Cost of the trip will be about $900.

Arrangements will be made to accommodate wives, families and others on the tour while administrators are visiting schools.

The tour may be taken for credit by enrolling for Educational Administration 385, Workshop in Current Problems in School Administration. The cost of the course is $40.

Ackerrund said reservations for the tour will be accepted in the order received and will be limited to 60 persons. Reservations should be sent to him at SIUE.

SIUE Art Major Makes Jewelry, Enters Show

Scott Schaffnit of Brentwood, Mo., an art major at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been making jewelry since he was 18. His interest in that art was stimulated in classes in Brentwood High School, he says.

Designs by Schaffnit, who established a jewelry business, Gold Coast Ltd., in Missouri last August with his brother, are carried by several women's shops in the area. Each year he has jewelry at the Fashion Exhibitors' of America men's and women's shows at the Chase-Park Plaza and Kiel Auditorium in St. Louis and at the St. Louis gift show.

He will have a booth Saturday and Sunday at the antique show sponsored by the SIUE Friends of the Library, where he will have items for sale and will demonstrate jewelry making.

Currently he has works on exhibit at the St. Louis Artists Guild show. "I don't always agree with the jurors on works they select," Schaffnit says. "In my case I thought some of the things they rejected were better than those they chose to exhibit."

Schaffnit attended the University of California at Berkeley from 1963 to 1965 and the following two years studied jewelry making at the California College of Arts and Crafts. In 1967-68 he was enrolled in fine arts at San Jose State College.

While in military service in Panama from 1969 to 1971, the young artist was able to collect stones to use in making his jewelry. "Investing in stones and other materials for jewelry is more expensive than buying a lot of paints," he said. "But I don't get discouraged and I don't worry too much about money."

436 at BPW State Legislative Conference

Miss Virginia Allen, deputy assistant U. S. secretary of state for public affairs and a member of President Nixon's Task Force, spoke on the subject "Concerns of the World Wide Women's Movement" at the 1973 Legislative Conference of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs held during the weekend at Springfield, Ill.

Ten members of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club were among the 436 women attending the conference at the St. Nicholas Hotel. Principal topic of the meeting focused on the Equal Rights Amendment Bill, which shortly will be re-introduced in the Illinois legislature.

Governor Dan Walker gave the welcoming address and the response was made by Eleanor Rose Bourke, state IBPW president.

Girl Scout Troop 2 of Springfield presented the colors to open the morning session and the pledge of allegiance was led by Kay Howell, IBPW first vice-president. The invocation was offered by Violet Davis, IBPW president-elect.

In her talk, Miss Allen described the United Nations' worldwide seminar on "Participation of Women in Economic Life" held in Moscow, USSR, at which she headed the United States delegation.

Miss Allen, a past president of the National BPW Federation, spoke on the Equal Rights Amendment, noting the importance of necessary states ratifying the legislation.

She commented, "there are many important things for women to do in today's world," and she reminded the BPW delegates that 1975 has been designated as "International Women's Year."

Other speakers addressing the conference included State Representative Giddy Dyer, R-Illinois, whose topic was "Illinois Legislative Process." She explained the procedure for introducing a bill in the Illinois House and Senate and urged delegates to write their senators or representatives regarding the ERA.

The state legislator also suggested additional letters be sent to Senator William Harris, president of the Illinois Senate.

Sheribel Rothenberg, trial attorney for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, discussed sex discrimination in employment. She reported that numerous lawsuits have been filed by women due to discriminatory actions in employment.

The attorney mentioned specific instances in which suits were brought, including those on behalf of women teachers who were forced to resign due to pregnancy.

Dismissal from a job for this reason has been judged illegal, Miss Rothenberg said, noting that the majority of school boards have since changed their rules in this regard. But not all, she added.

At the luncheon session, held in the St. Nicholas Hotel Ballroom, James E. Spivey, representative of the Association of Illinois Electric Cooperatives, spoke on the topic "Consumerism."

Finance Commissioner James Dunham of Springfield offered the greeting and Catherine Burton of Collinsville, IBPW second vice-president, read the Club Collect.

Miss Jean McCarrey, president-elect of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, paid special tribute to State Senator Everly Saperstein, D-Chicago, and State Representative Giddy Dyer and Eugene S. Chapman, D-Arlington Heights, for their efforts on behalf of the ERA in the Illinois legislature.

Miss McCarrey, who will be installed as president of the National BPW Federation at Miami, Fla., in July, said the organization's theme for the 1973-74 club year will be "Challenge for Commitment."

A trio of panelists explored the subject — "It's Your Money."

Speakers and their topics were Maurice Scott, executive vice-president, "Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois," who spoke on "Property, State Income and Sales Taxes," Rep. Chapman, whose topic covered credit for women; and Thomas Jordan, assistant executive, Wayne Hummer & Co., who gave a resume on investment and government bonds.

"How to Lobby for the ERA" was discussed by Pat Blake of the Illinois League of Women Voters, and State Sen. Saperstein briefed conferees on the current status of the ERA Bill.

Those taking part in the legislative conference from the Granite City BPW Club were: Paula Weir, Verna Lengyel, Rosemary Bastedon, Helen Christich, Gladys Newman, Marionne Lambert, Thelma Ward, Vernice Wortman, Sylvia Wright and Lorene Sadrakula.

CUB PACK 17 BANQUET

Cub Pack 17, sponsored by the Marshall School PTA, held its annual blue and gold banquet in commemoration of the founding of Boy Scouting 60 years ago. The February theme, "Famous people," was carried out in the table decorations.

The Webelos den gave the opening ceremony and led the national pledge. Each boy described various American flags and their places in the history of the U.S.

Richard Ault, principal of Marshall School, gave the invocation preceding the pot luck dinner. The tables were set and decorated by the cubs, using place mats with Lincoln and Washington silhouettes. "Famous people" were sawbucks and logs.

Patriotic streamers of red, white and blue enhanced the center of the tables, with paper mache "liberty bells," Uncle Sam hats and U. S. flags.

Mrs. Nancy Wickham, advancement chairman, led the group in singing and the welcoming address was by the pack committee chairman, Adalbert Ambuehl Jr. There were greetings from Ault and David Brooks, a Uniwah District representative, who commented on the pack's window display during Boy Scout Week.

Den Two, led by Mrs. Joyce

Wilson, entertained the audience, each boy describing the history of scouting as they spelled out: "Cub Scouts."

A report on the pack's past year was given by Webelos leader Bill Osborn. Speaker for the evening was Patrolman Roy Koberna of the Granite City police who spoke on the Officer Friendly program and on a rail safety topic in which he noted the hazards of playing around rail yards, trains and trucks.

Koberna assisted Mrs. Wickham in the awards presentation: Kenny Wilson, bear badge, gold arrow point and one year perfect attendance pin; Kelvin Barnes, bear badge; Sam Givens, wolf badge and gold and silver arrow points; David Marks, bear badge and assistant denner bar; Phil Johnson, denner bars; Jay Osborn, citizen badge; citizen and scientist badges; Mike Clark, outdoorsman badge; Dennis Reeves, sportsman; and Mrs. Ann Osborn and Bob James, leader certificates.

Cubmaster Bill Johnson introduced Principal Ault and his family, Patrolman Koberna and his family, and Mr. and Mrs. Williams and their son, Jim, who was welcomed as a new cub, Johnson spoke on upcoming events that will include a carnival in March and the annual pinewood derby in May.

The Webelos retired the colors to close the program.

Salvation Army Elects Ten Board Members

The Salvation Army Advisory Board Monday elected board members who will serve one, two and three-year terms. Chris Paschoff, president, presided.

Ralph Astorin was named to a one-year board term and Robert Davis is to serve two years. Both are new members of the board.

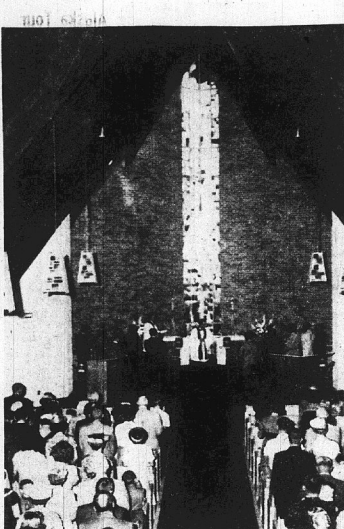

Re-elected to three-year terms are Walter Gavlick, Harry Johnson, Roy Lynn, Mrs. Alvenette Metcalf, Randall Robertson, Fred Schuman, Edward Stone and William Winter.

Officers to head the advisory board will be elected at a special organization meeting next week. The date is to be announced.

Tentative plans were considered for a capital fund campaign in the spring in anticipation of building a new Salvation Army Headquarters.

Will Replace Signs

Paul Schuler, candidate for mayor in the Granite City municipal election April 2, reported yesterday that several of his campaign signs have been removed from yards and are missing. He said anyone wanting replacements in such instances may call Schuler's campaign headquarters at Nameoki Village at 877-1494.

ST. JOHN LUTHERAN CHURCH at St. Clair and Dale avenues which will celebrate its golden anniversary with special services and a banquet on the Sundays of March.

St. John Lutheran Sets 50th Anniversary Fete

Golden anniversary festivities will begin Sunday at St. John Lutheran Church, St. Clair and Dale avenues. A month-long celebration has been planned.

The congregation organized formally on March 18, 1923, when a handful of families became charter members. In September 1924, members of the congregation decided to construct their first church edifice at E. 24th Street and Bromley Avenue. In three months, with the members doing the work themselves, the building was ready for dedication. The following year a parsonage was built next to the church.

As the congregation gradually outgrew its facilities, a five-acre tract of land was bought at St. Clair and Dale avenues. Construction of a new church edifice, in modern, contemporary design, began in 1968, with dedication in September 1969. A new parsonage was constructed in 1960, after the old one was sold.

This Sunday has been designated as "Founders and Leaders' Day." The congregation will express gratefulness to the Lord for the labors and examples of sacrifice of the founding families and leaders of the congregation.

Worship services will begin at 10:30 a.m., with the Rev. Samuel Boda, pastor, delivering the message. Mrs. Phyllis Jarakak will be at the organ. The Senior Church Choir will sing, "We Hail Thee, O Jesus," from Cantata No. 78, by J. S. Bach.

The second Sunday of the month will be "Youth Sunday" and the third Sunday will serve as "Choral Sunday"; and the final and climactic celebration will come on March 25 with a "Festival Service of Thanksgiving," followed by a Golden Anniversary Banquet in the fellowship hall.

Guest speaker for this final service will be a spiritual son of the congregation, the Rev. Luther John Balus, now of Zion Lutheran Church, Chicago.

The anniversary project has been the renovation of the fellowship hall with the addition of a fiberglass drop ceiling, the installation of 18 new fluorescent lights in the new ceiling and painting and redecoration of the walls and the youth room.

Other anniversary endeavors include the preparation of a pictorial directory and the "pressing" of an anniversary 10-inch plate. Friends of the congregation are invited to all anniversary services.

Kay Burgener to Be Summer Bride

Mr. and Mrs. William Burgener, 829 Lincoln Ave., Venice, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Kay Burgener, 218 West Market St., Taylorville, Ill., to Harry Garren of Detroit, Mich.

A summer wedding is being planned by the betrothed couple. The ceremony will take place at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Taylorville.

The bride-elect attended St. Mark's Parochial School in Venice and graduated from Mount Providence High School and Marillac College, both in Normandy, Mo. She presently is employed as principal and first grade teacher at St. Mary's School in Taylorville.

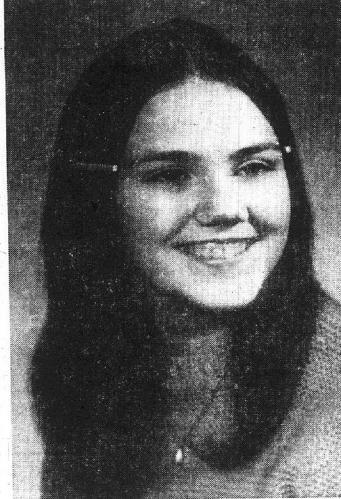

Mr. Garren attended schools in Centralia, Ill. He currently is employed by Bender-Louden Trucking Co. at Richfield, Ohio.

Local 67 Endorses Schuler, Hagnauer

Members of Local 67, United Steelworkers of America, have voted to endorse and support Paul Schuler for mayor and Nelson "Nellie" Hagnauer for supervisor of Granite City in the April 3 city and township elections.

Also receiving the endorsement of the local are Von Dee Cruse for assessor, Paul Rutledge for treasurer and Robert Stevens for city clerk. The three are unopposed.

The local is composed of 1,100 employees of the hot strip and cold strip departments of Granite City Steel Co., according to James E. Kelahan, recording secretary.

MISS KAY LYNN FRY, who with her fiance, Jesse F. Brake, is completing plans for a wedding in September. She is a daughter of Mrs. Charlotte White of St. Louis and Richard Fry, 2805 Fortune Drive.

COUNTDOWN FOR COMFORT

6" of insulation in attic or top floor ceiling (R-19 insulation)

4" of insulation in outside walls (R-11 insulation)

2" of insulation for floors over vented crawl space or unheated basement (R-13 insulation)

The right amount of insulation is one of the smartest investments you'll ever make in your home. Here, for example, are some of the "dividends" you'll get...

- ... lower heating costs. Studies show that the generally recommended insulation standard of 6-2 can reduce fuel bills up to 40% in winter.
- ... lower air conditioning costs. Insulation keeps your home up to 15% cooler in summer.
- ... greater comfort. 6-2 insulation eliminates the chill drafts caused by cold outside walls in winter. In summer you're more comfortable because your air conditioning isn't fighting the intense heat build-up in the attic.
- ... less noise pollution. 6-2 insulation shuts out irritating outside noise and provides sound control between rooms within the house.

What to do. A reputable contractor can quickly estimate your insulation needs and the job with minimum inconvenience to your family. Or your building supply dealer will provide instructions and materials for a do-it-yourself job. Either way, 6-2 insulation will pay for itself in fuel savings and year 'round comfort.

ANNOUNCING THE '73 DODGE COLT

'Til now, little Japanese imports have had to depend on their own dealerships in the U.S. for parts and service. Now comes Dodge Colt, imported from Japan, but sold, serviced, and backed by Dodge, coast to coast.

Many imports that come to America come with only very real problems: how to provide parts and service on a nationwide basis.

Put another way, once the car gets here, who's going to take care of it?

'Til now, Japanese imports have pretty much had to rely on the dealerships they themselves set up in the U.S. But now comes an import with a different way of doing things. An import that comes from Japan... to America...

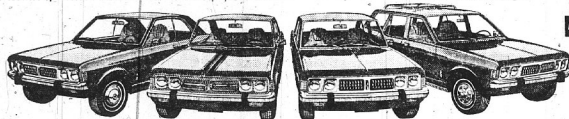

c/o Dodge. The Colt is sold and serviced and backed to the hilt by a network of Dodge Colt Dealers that stretches from one side of the U.S. to the other.

Which means that though the Colt may be built over 5,000 miles away, it'll be cared for by a man who's right around the corner.

And speaking of being built, wait'll you see what Colt comes with as standard equipment...

- Front disc brakes
- Reclining bucket seats (except on coupe)
- Overhead cam hemi engine
- Four-speed transmission (we think it's the best in the industry)
- Hidden radio antenna
- Easy-to-care-for vinyl upholstery
- Plus a lot of other things you'd expect on a little car.

Colt... from Japan to America... c/o Dodge.
